
Welcome aboard!

I'm so glad that you decided to join the voice studio of Professor Kelly in the (Theater Lab) group

Monday afternoons at 4:30) (Singer's Style Lab Mondays at 6:30 pm PDT/PST) (Singer's Style Lab Tuesdays 10:00 am - 11:00 am PDT/PST)

We meet on zoom here: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/3797640739>

Each week we cover a different topic. Generally this is the first 20 minutes of class, so do your best to be ontime.

Here's how you can get the most out of each class:

Log into zoom from a computer laptop, rather than an iphone or ipad.

Have your camera on, and your mic muted. (that way you can try things out and practice during class in private!)

Choose a space where you are free to make noise without being afraid of disturbing others

Have a song or two on hand (or memorized) that you can try these techniques on.

(It's amazing how you can know thousands of songs, and yet, when someone asks you to sing something, your mind will go blank!)

Keep a water bottle on hand and stay hydrated.

I encourage people to take notes- so I'm an old school notepad person. Use whatever mechanism will help you remember the best!

Also, the more you try things out and mimic what we are doing while we are in class, the more you will remember! It's not just about listening, it's about DOING.

Have fun! Look forward to seeing you in class.

FONS is also what I use for scheduling/cancelling/rescheduling of private lessons. It will show

- Studying voice in a group like this can really accelerate your vocal abilities!
- At the college level, the students who took part in group master classes accomplished things at a rate that was at least 6 times faster than those who just took private lessons!!
-
- Hold on tight, and get ready to take some big strides with your voice.
- I do ask that you purchase music from time to time. Often I use musicnotes.com. You may want to consider a scribd subscription which will give you access to numerous scores as well.
- If you have any questions, please email me. I'll try to respond within 24-48 hours.
kellymusic4life@gmail.com

Take a moment to download my policies and let me know that you've read them!

I look forward to working with you!

Kelly Burge