

Just 3 weeks old when Carah found him scared, sick, and alone under a dumpster, Winnie's eyes were so infected that he couldn't even open them...

Dear Scott,

When you feel trapped, the future can be incredibly frightening.

When you find an injured kitten, when your dog escapes and is hit by a car, when your puppy becomes lethargic and you're worried it could be parvo; it's scary to think there are no options.

That you're stuck...

Stephanie called us worried about her dog Tiny. She'd become lethargic and her abdomen felt hard. Her exam revealed pyometra. Her uterus was infected and swollen. Death was a real possibility...

The uncertainty, the desperation and fear. Looking for help - trying to save your pet's life - knowing your friend is suffering.

'Can I pay my light or water bill or take him to the vet?'

Bubba had lost over 20 pounds. He was throwing up. But Alondra couldn't afford a full-service vet. She just couldn't.

We contend with situations like these every day ... when pets need urgent care. With no place to turn these families would have no options. They'd be left with only fear and pain ... maybe worse.

They need us. That's why we need you. Go to prckc.org/doublethelove now to help.

DOUBLE THE LOVE

And right now you can provide twice the support.

Donate today using the enclosed envelope or go online to prckc.org/doublethelove and help us be there when pets and people need us. Every donation through $150,000 is being matched, so you'll have twice the impact on pets in the community.

Your support allows us to take on these cases. Instead of owners drowning in fear and worry, we can give them a hand. Because we believe:

A lack of funds shouldn't mean a lack of care.

And for these beloved friends, it didn't. Winnie's eyes got better. We removed a very large, deadly pyometra from Tiny and she has recovered nicely. When we opened up Bubba we found a rope toy, which would have killed him. But the surgery went well and he's doing great.

These pets were saved because of you. All these pet parents were able to get their furry family member affordable care when they needed it.

They had someone to turn to. And you made that possible.

Right now your impact will be even greater. Every dollar you donate is matched up to $150,000. Can you imagine doubling your impact? How many more pets we can reach, how much more lifesaving we can provide?

Please, donate now at prckc.org/doublethelove or by returning the enclosed envelope with your gift. Together, we'll keep families together where they belong. And save lives.

With all our love,

Michelle Rivera
