A tablet like no other with HTC Sense

HTC's long-awaited entry into the world of tablet computers has arrived with the new HTC Flyer, and it's ready to make its mark with some great technology on-board.

Find out more

The HTC Flyer combines stunning looks with powerful portable computing. Its slim and lightweight all-in-one aluminium body houses a super-fast 1.5GHz Qualcomm Snapdragon processor and 1GB of RAM, so you can breeze through web pages even if they feature HTML 5 and Adobe Flash videos.

Using the HTC Flyer is a pleasure. It comes with Android's 2.3.3 (Gingerbread) OS and HTC Sense built in, so if you've enjoyed using Android's smartphones you'll love the HTC Flyer. Web browsing has been given a real boost too, with multi-window browsing making it easy to view all of your content on-screen at the same time.
