

Gemini Soccerscope

It's Gemini season Socceristas! We know you can't wait to see what this month has in store for you on the field. Don't worry, we've got what you need to put your mind at ease.

On the Field

As a Gemini, you've got two sides of yourself. Your shy and bashful side along with your badass alter ego. This will come in handy when it comes to outsmarting your opponents and going for the goal! Get ready Soccerista because nothing's getting passed you!

Beauty

A Gemini's look is never the same. You never know what you're going to get but we promise it's always flawless. Whether you choose to showcase your captivating, smokey eyes today or your full lips tomorrow, you'll definitely turn heads wherever you go.

In the gym, it's no different. Gemini Socceristas kick their training to the next. Their 5'4-5'11 height and lean frame is not to be taken for weakness. Not only are these women beautiful, but the Gemini athlete trains insane. Because Geminis are the twin sign, they know the importance of both strength and functionality when it comes to game time. Though a Gemini is unpredictable, they'll leave no stone unturned, on the field or in the gym.

Relationships

Due to the fun-loving and spontaneous personality of the Gemini, people love being around them. This is great for those socceristas looking to attract new lovers or friendships. However, it's important to ease into new romantic relationships. You may feel the rush of intense passion and compatibility, but you'll benefit from stepping back and looking at the whole picture.

Ok Geminis, you've got your game plan for the month of June, so, go out there and crush it. We know you'll bring back the gold!
