A Robot Vacuum That Does It All

BY LESLIE CORONA
REAL SIMPLE Senior Home Editor

For a long time, I avoided robot vacuums. The one I had years ago sucked—and not in the way it was meant to. But I did a complete 180 when I tried Bissell's SpinWave Wet and Dry Robotic Vacuum. This app-controlled baby has incredible suction power, runs for 90 minutes nonstop, and is so quiet, my husband has been known to nap while it does its job. Thanks to smart sensors, it navigates rooms with minimal bumping. Plus—wait for it—it even mops. Just swap the dry brush for the reusable pads, and when the vacuum nears a rug, it'll turn back around! It leaves my rugs and hardwood floors spotless. Is your mind blown yet? Oh, it's cute too!

Easy-to-remove parts make it a cinch to extract dirt collected by the device.

Schedule nightly cleanings to erase daily buildup of pet hair.
