What can I expect to learn?

Tech leaders and innovators will share real-world experience on how better skills can help your org do everything from achieve a successful cloud transformation to navigate the possibilities and potential risks of GenAI.

During live keynotes and breakout sessions, you'll discover how to:

- Close critical skills gaps
- Deliver better products and experiences
- Stay ahead of today's (and tomorrow's) tech trends
- Harness the power of GenAI to keep your competitive edge

And deliver on this year's objectives and beyond.

What's the event (really) like?

This exclusive experience combines the real-world content you crave, the in-depth discussions you need, and the intentional networking you want all in one place. You'll connect with regional executives from companies of all sizes and industries as you explore topics centered around the challenges of workforce transformation.

Think of it as your one-stop shop for learning how to lead out in tech skill development, refine your competitive edge, and prompt a new wave of innovation.

Dive into highlights from last year's event for a taste of what to expect.
