Ready for Next-level Clean?

Now, more than ever, the last thing you need to worry about is operational downtime that can come when one or more of your essential employees gets sick. Introducing Xybix Protect™, a workstation and console learning service that takes your operations center to next-level clean.

Welcome to Xybix Protect™ Clean

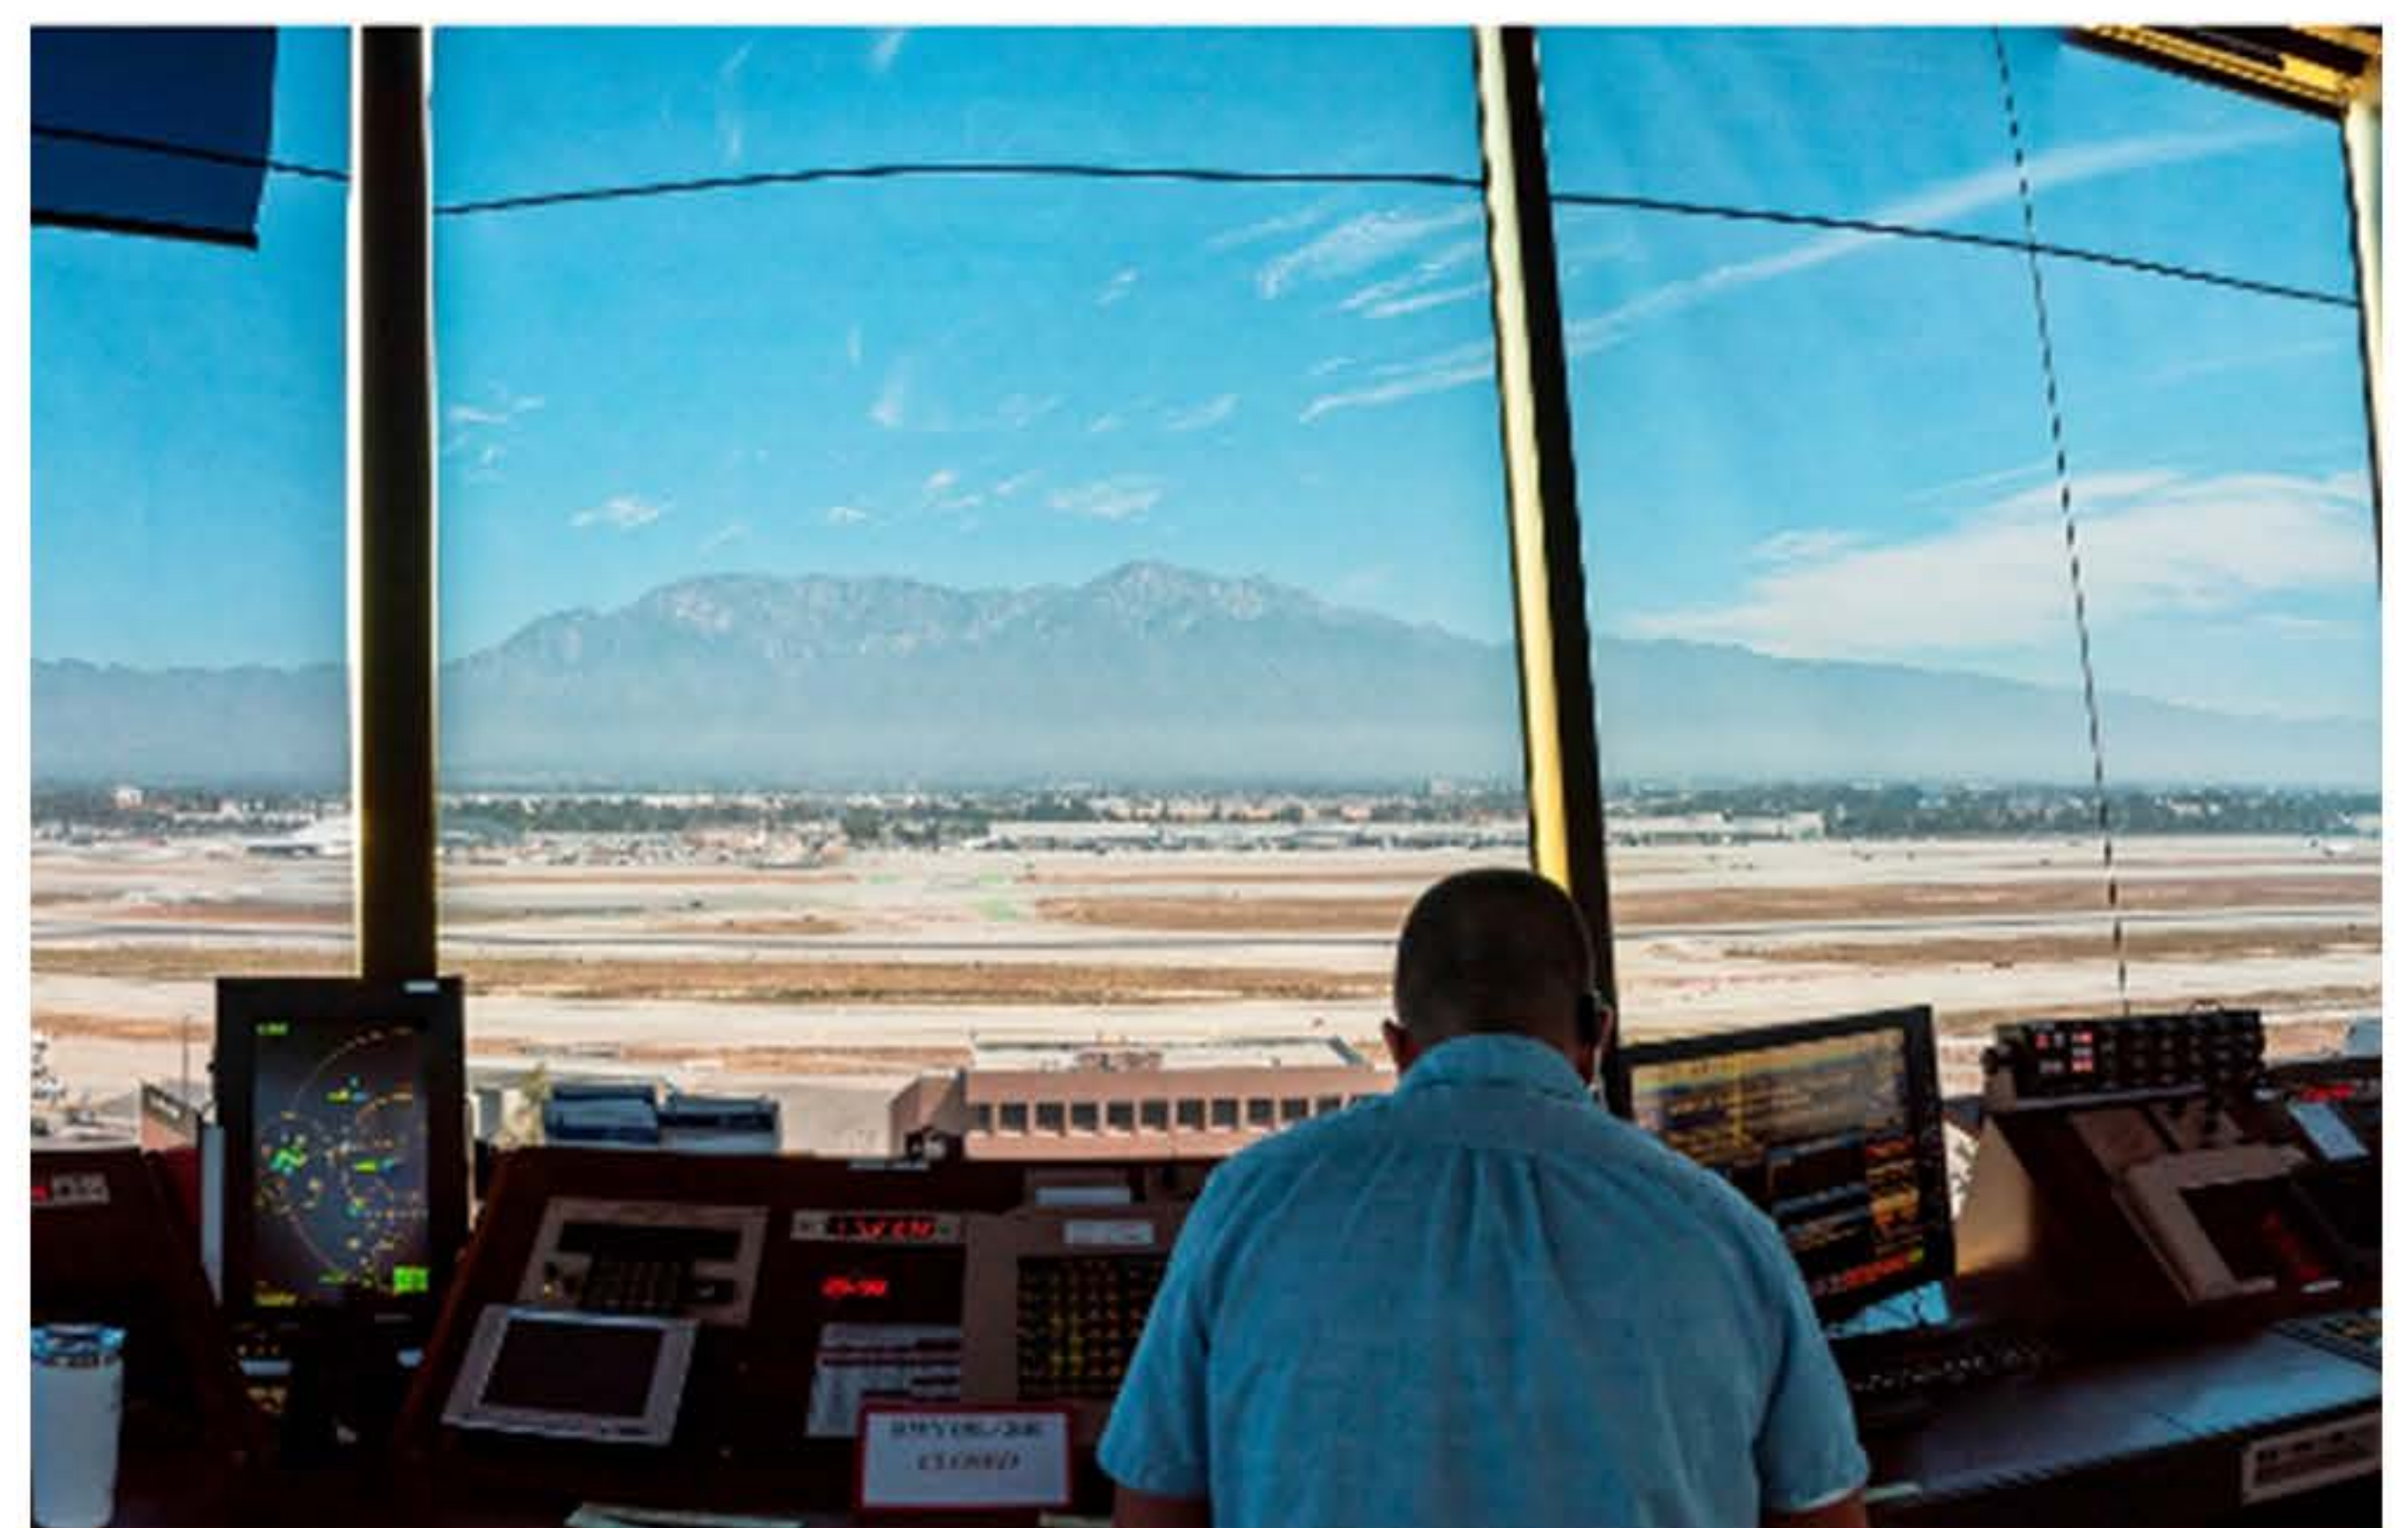

Xybix Protect™ is a workstation cleaning service that cleans and maintains your consoles and workstations for optimum health and hygiene for your people and your workspace. Using the highest quality cleaning solutions and methods, Xybix Protect™ helps ensure the safety of you and your mission-critical employees and preserve your 15-20 year investment in your Xybix workstations. Best of all, our team of experienced professionals cleans and disinfects your mission-critical workspace with no downtime.

Protecting your Essential Employees

Command Centers are known to accumulate a large amount of dirt, dust and debris that weakens the human immune system. A traditional janitorial crew will clean around the workstation, but rarely in, on and underneath them. This leaves behind debris, liquid spills, dust mites and allergens that pose threats to your employees, especially during a typical flu season.

A worker with the flu infects an average of 1.3 other people, while workers exposed to COVID-19 germs will infect between two and three people—many of those through contaminated work surfaces.

The Xybix Protect™ Difference

Xybix Protect™ is committed to cleaning your space thoroughly and respectfully while your operations center stays LIVE and uninterrupted. Our professional, low-decibel cleaning system allows your dispatchers to do their jobs with minimal interruption and noise—and keeps the security of your center intact.
