Why we made Chat free

A message from Rickard Hansson, CEO

I won't mince words trying to pay lip service to all the ways in which the global COVID-19 pandemic reshaped fundamental parts of our life. It rapidly hastened the transition to distributed and hybrid work models and product teams across the app landscape have scrambled to keep up with the changes and adjust their roadmap accordingly.

No matter the approach, the result has been the same industry wide: communication and collaboration features are becoming more and more enmeshed into apps.
