Intelligent Card Management

Data & Insights

ICM can bring in additional metadata from the merchant, such as bill history and upcoming payment dates. This helps your customer better manage their finances while giving your institution key insights into other products and features they may benefit from.

Occupy Top-of-Wallet

ICM can help make that happen by giving your customers the ability to decide which card is their default card. If they select your card, it can drive increased card usage, promote your brand, mitigate card abandonment and support customer retention.

In-App Provisioning for Card On File

BillGO's ICM empowers FIs and fintechs with in-app provisioning. This provides customers with a seamless, secure method to manage all bills and subscriptions in a single digital environment.

Increased Card Not Present Security

Today's consumer – on average – has about four cards. Securely managing card activity is a challenge. BillGO's ICM helps by "tokenizing" cards, creating merchant-specific card numbers to protect consumer credentials and transactions.
