11 Online Boutiques to get your Raya Fashion Fix!

Raya is dawning upon us. It is the season of forgiveness and kindness with food and laughter galore. Your relatives are calling to ask if there is space to bunk and your adorable nieces and nephews are finally coming down. Your mother is busy sending out invites and working out that famous recipe of hers that she whips out once a year during Raya.

Your father is probably going to get the car washed for those trips to balik kampung and you? Well, you are in charge of making sure everything else goes smoothly and everyone is feeling great!

So, the house is spotless, everything is blessedly in order and ready to kick off. Right?

Not quite.

With the laughter comes the tears and with the food comes the food coma. There is no such thing as a holiday without a sprinkle of tension and stress in the air. After all, it takes effort to make everything look good. Therefore, a trip to a spa for that facial, a mani-pedi and for some, the hair dressers.

But what do you wear, though? I do not know about you but this author takes everything really chill until a week before when I start digging through my closet for something decent or at least remotely in style this season!

Giving up on at that fruitless effort, I turn to the holy grail of speedy retail.

Online shopping. It is fast, reliable and has every style that stores usual do not carry.

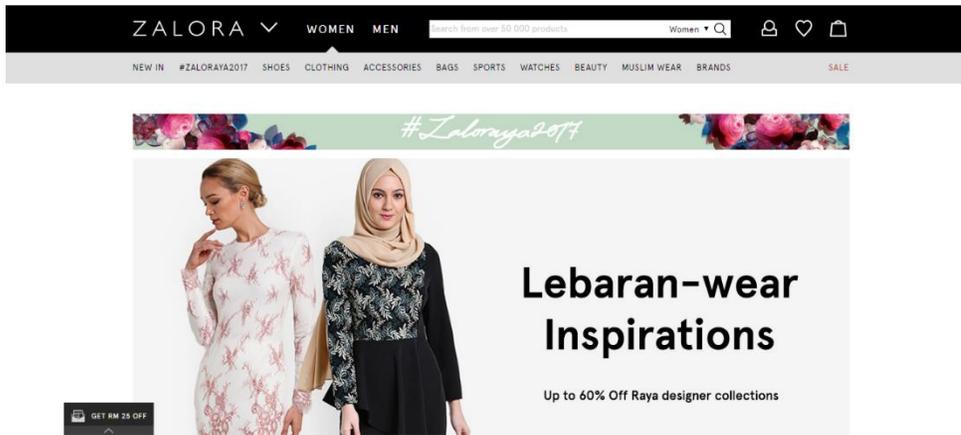

Oh! - "but where do I find these amazing, reliable, fast online websites?"- you ask?

Fret not! This is where help arrives. We are no strangers to colour coordinating with family members but of course you got to have your own style, right?

Plus, those days where you are hopping to open houses, you need at least a couple of outfits.

Within this article you will find a bunch of websites and fab Instagram stores that are locked and loaded with all your Raya fashion needs!

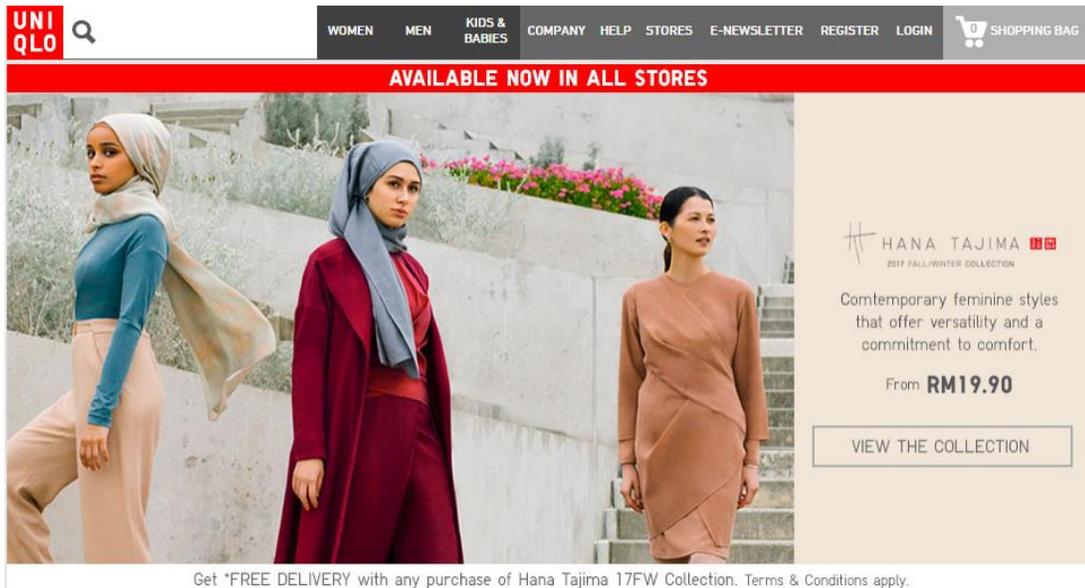

1) Zalora

Zalora is a household name at this point. With a stream of fashion options that is not limited to a specific genre, this website is able to offer the best of the best picks from local designers to in house designers! Plus, with options to filter out pricing and colours, it becomes increasingly easy to search for the look you are going for.

Check out their website : <https://www.zalora.com.my/women/?catalogtype=Main>

2) Uniqlo

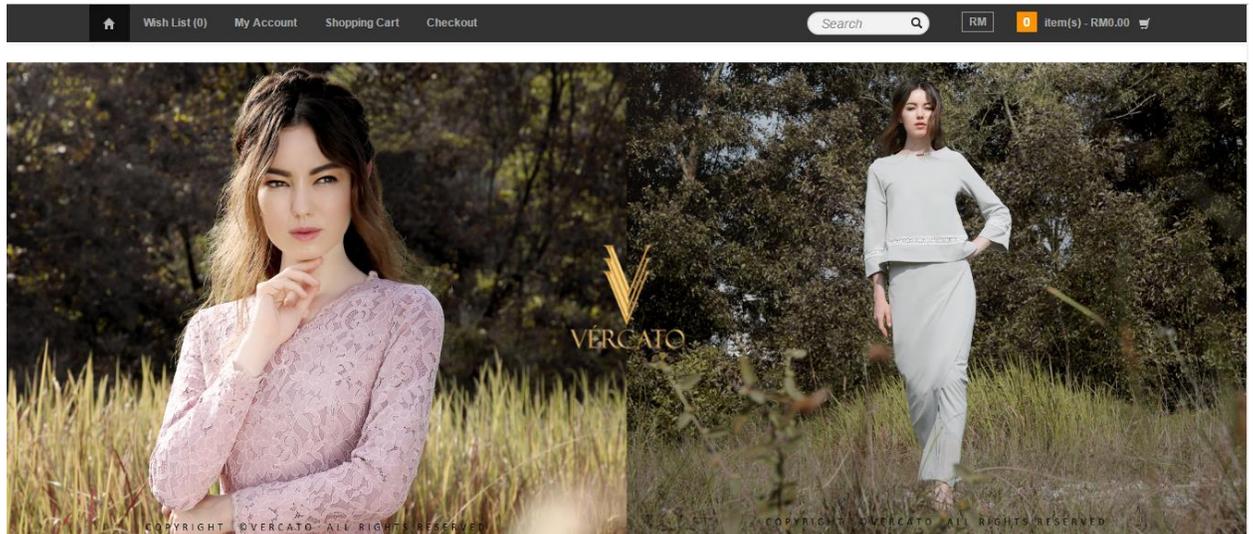

The image shows a screenshot of the Uniqlo website's promotional banner for the Hana Tajima 2017 Fall/Winter Collection. At the top left is the Uniqlo logo with a search icon. The navigation menu includes: WOMEN, MEN, KIDS & BABIES, COMPANY, HELP, STORES, E-NEWSLETTER, REGISTER, LOGIN, and a SHOPPING BAG icon. A red banner across the top reads "AVAILABLE NOW IN ALL STORES". The main visual features three models in contemporary, minimalist clothing. The model on the left wears a light blue long-sleeved top and light-colored trousers with a light-colored hijab. The middle model wears a dark red long-sleeved top and matching trousers with a dark blue hijab. The model on the right wears a light brown long-sleeved top and matching trousers. To the right of the models, the text reads: "HANA TAJIMA 2017 FALL/WINTER COLLECTION", "Contemporary feminine styles that offer versatility and a commitment to comfort.", and "From RM19.90". Below this is a button that says "VIEW THE COLLECTION". At the bottom of the banner, it says: "Get *FREE DELIVERY with any purchase of Hana Tajima 17FW Collection. Terms & Conditions apply."

Not many might know this but UNIQLO has dished out a couple of looks for this upcoming Raya with collaboration with designer, Hana Tajima.

She has artfully designed minimalism pieces that leave at the impact on the wearer. Plus, they have awesome Hijabs that are designed simply so as to make it easier for you to coordinate them with your Raya look.
