

Time for some shut eye! Scientists know some of the factors that help to induce good sleep in horses, and these include a deep bed and familiarity with their surroundings

