

5 Fashion Trends For Next Spring That You Need to Watch Out For ASAP

Meta Description:

Want a sneak peek into the fashion trends for next spring season? Follow these 5 hot spring fashion trends and have an ultra-stylish summer.

Isn't spring that wonderful time of the year when even Mother Nature likes to put on some new greens and colorful blossoms to show off how fabulous she can be?!

And if you don't like lagging behind too much with your early spring fashion trends either, and putting up with not-too-friendly stares in the club for 'just about being a year too late' with your outfit, the time is right to step up your fashion game!

The onset of summer is all about freedom and experimentation with new styles and trends – all geared up towards breaking free from the winter cocoon and breathing easy and relaxed. Think flee styles and platform shoes alongside halter necklines and micro minis – what someone like Taylor Swift might put on one splendid Californian morning while casually walking her dog! Okay, maybe not that chilled-out but you get the drift, hey?

Hottest Spring Fashion Trends to Bookmark This Onset of Summer

So now that you're in on the ride, what we have done is put on a list of five of the biggest fashion trends that you need to look out for this summer. Just grab them – beg, borrow, or steal; don't worry, the fashion Gods have your back – as soon as you set your eyes on them and run!

Guess Who's Back, It's Y2K Fashion

We know your nostalgia playlist is filled with Y2K vibes – what with all the Pussycat Dolls and Spice Girls music videos that everyone keeps watching on repeat! Well, the fashion world is the latest to catch the fever all over again, with low-rise bottoms, halter tops, whale-tail pants, and bra-top cutouts.

To top it all, you can also get some playful jewelry to put the icing on the cake and start turning heads every time you go out.

Vacation Outfit

With the flourishing of the gig economy, everyone is booking Airbnb motels in Bali more frequently nowadays than people used to go out for their share of McDonald's about a decade ago. And with this spring's fashion, you don't need any more motivation whatsoever to just pack up and leave at the drop of a hat.

Airy dresses, cotton poplin, and crochet tops; think of everything that you like to hang onto while chilling in your living room but don't quite mind for a vacation outing either.

Extra Extra Extra Large Bags

Bags are one of the key essentials that are in for a surprisingly big change this spring season. And while reading this, if you're slowly starting to look disapprovingly at your mini bag, just hold on to the idea of shoving it forever for a little while.

That's because looking at the size of the ultra-huge bags that the gurus have proclaimed for the fashion trends for next spring, you can keep your minis and a truckload of other essentials safe inside the new ones, until they get trendy again!

High-Set Footwear

When it comes to footwear for this spring fashion wave – no matter what you're talking about: heels, sandals, or loafers, it is time to add a few more solid inches to the game.

So get as excited as Jonah Hill over 90s Steve Maddens in Wolf of Wall Street or play it safe with Stella McCartney and Versace; go for chunky soles or refined heels; just whatever satisfies your footwear quirk!

Bright and Bold

Lady Gaga fashion fan club comes back with a vengeance with colors more bright and multiple shades and hues more appealing than a rainbow on a clear sky blue palette! Marques Almeida and Saint Laurent are just the right collections to live up to this amazing trend and rock your fashion surroundings inside out.

Step Out This Summer Dressed Like You Mean It!

So then, with easy knits and buttoned-down shirts spinning back to the front of the spring fashion wheel; and fringe skirts and tote bags reinventing it, we're sure these upcoming months have something exciting in store for every fashion personality type.

And now that you're finally all geared up with an arsenal of the industry's most coveted fashion trends for next spring, all you need to do is grab the right styles and set this season on fire!

