Baillie Gifford US Growth Trust

The American dream. Made real.

Those with big ideas have always been welcomed in America. And our portfolio.

Realising the American dream, it's what America was built on. Today opportunities abound in all kinds of exciting sectors, from space travel to synthetic biology and healthcare to online gaming. And the Baillie Gifford US Growth Trust seeks out the very best of them for our portfolio. Better still, being a Trust means we're free to back any exceptional growth company of the future, whether they've already gone public or are still privately owned. That's why almost half of the companies we invest in are still unlisted. Which means only we can offer you exclusive access to these amazing opportunities. Sounds like a dream opportunity to us.
