

Natural Intelligence

Information everywhere
Truth evaporating into toxic air
Opinions becoming more intense
But less diverse
Do you follow mainstream common sense
Or immerse yourself into the anti-establishment universe
Your algorithm will tell you
Which team you belong to
The further down you scroll
The higher the price you'll pay
Watching hateful politicians takes its toll
Cambridge Analytica takes your information away
Docile masses
Becoming puppets of powerful masters
My dear scrolling friend
Don't let your life be lived
AI bots and headlines drag you down till the bitter end
Unless you realise your true gift
Is your capacity for nuance and balance and love and hence
This is your natural intelligence
