How Can ME Inc. Help Students Now?

The purpose of ME Inc. is to inspire students to prepare now for their future in the workforce. It begins with achieving their educational goals, establishing good habits and a strong work ethic that will pave the way for continued success.

This unique program gives students the ability to explore different professions and opportunities in the workplace. They'll discover how their personality, talents and interests play a key role in their career happiness. Workforce experts will offer input on their resume and provide them with interview tips that enable them to stand out and gain the attention of top employers. For students preparing to enter the workforce after graduation, we'll help them find a job that caters to their individual goals and aspirations.

Preparing Gen Z For Work Success

Authors of the Emerging Workforce® Study, Spherion understands the distinct values that Gen Z brings to the workforce. More than a paycheck, their employment decisions are influenced by a company's online reputation, culture and values. Workers in this group want to feel connected to their employer beyond the scope of their job. They are the most digitally adept generation in the workforce with a mobile mindset and a desire for remote work options. With a deep understanding of Gen Z's work preferences, Spherion is able to guide them in choices that hold to their values and foster a greater sense of satisfaction and fulfillment.
