ARMY get ready for BTS' upcoming reality show, called In the SOOP via Weyverse

SOOP means “forest” in Korean, and the show follows the septet on their outdoor adventures. RM, Jin, Suga, J-Hope, Jimin, V, and Jungkook pick their own schedules and do daily activities on their own, with minimal interference from management and company staff.

The eight, hourlong episodes will be hosted by BTS themselves, with new episodes premiering every Wednesday at 10 am EST. The first one is set to premiere on August 20 on the Weverse app.

The group is not strangers to showcasing their lives, as they have other reality shows such as Bon Voyage and Run BTS. Bon Voyage represents the band's traveling adventures before and after touring extensively. Run BTS is a quirky variety show where the boys play games and have fun with each other and their team.

Fans online are both excited and hopeful for the band to fully enjoy their nature-filled adventures without speculation and invasion of privacy. They may have the opportunity to embrace themselves on their own.
