

Emily Faulhaber

(954) 294-0663 | emilyfaul@gmail.com

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/emily-faulhaber-402148219>

EDUCATION

Brown University, B.A. Public Health, Class of 2024

Division 1 Athlete- Women's Cross Country and Track and Field

COMMUNICATIONS EXPERIENCE

Brown Office of University Communications, Intern

Providence, RI | Jun-Aug 2023

- Authored engaging and informative weekly articles, showcasing student features, campus events, and initiatives, incorporating source interviewing techniques to enhance content depth.
- Ensured high visibility by having all articles published on the News section of the official Brown University website, contributing to the dissemination of key information to the university community and beyond.
- Played a key role in team responsibilities, actively participating in media relations and strategic communications
- Implemented a quantitative assessment process for published news and story coverage, providing valuable insights to improve content strategy and optimize impact.

Institute at Brown for Environment and Society, Paid Undergraduate Writing Assistant

Providence, RI | Aug 2023-Present

- Authored weekly articles showcasing the noteworthy contributions of faculty, students, and projects within the Environmental Studies Department at Brown University.
- Pitched creative and relevant article ideas, demonstrating a proactive approach to content development.

Brown Alumni Magazine, Paid Staff Writer

Providence, RI | Aug 2022-Present

- Proactively generated compelling content for quarterly publication
- Submitted story ideas, demonstrating a keen understanding of the magazine's themes and interests while staying attuned to the preferences of the alumni audience

Brown Daily Herald, Section Editor

Providence, RI | Jan 2021-Present

- Spearheaded editorial direction, content planning, and production for University News section
- Conducted regular meetings to brainstorm ideas, assign article topics, and collaborate with team members
- Promoted from staff writer, to senior staff writer to section editor within 2 years

HEALTHCARE EXPERIENCE

Auxa Health, Product Innovation Intern

Remote/Virtual | Jun-Aug 2023

- Developed and designed a robust repository of Medicaid benefits, coupled with an innovative eligibility screening tool to ensure universal access to essential healthcare resources for every adult.
- Experience writing and editing RFP documents to fund new projects such as digital marketing materials and a more advanced AI system
- Collaborated closely with cross-functional teams, including leadership and engineering, to contribute to the development of an AI-powered technology aimed at identifying pertinent benefits and social resources.
- Partnered with company leadership to prepare compelling internal and external documents and presentations tailored for potential clients.
- Presented the final project results to the CEO and other C-suite leadership through a comprehensive PowerPoint presentation, effectively highlighting the impact and potential of the developed technologies.

Emergency Global Learning Exchange (EMGLEX), Intern

Remote/Virtual | June -Sept 2022

- Conducted comprehensive research in the field of global emergency medicine, gathering essential information to draft a paper highlighting the impactful nonprofit international healthcare education exchange program created by EMGLEX
- Collaborated effectively with fellow interns on various projects, including the development of research papers, monthly newsletters, PowerPoint presentations for speaker events, and the creation of schedules for EMGLEX virtual series.

University of Rhode Island, Research Assistant

Providence, RI | Jan 2024-Present

- Conducted extensive research on female athlete health, focusing on identifying nutritional insufficiencies and optimizing dietary practices to enhance performance and well-being.
- Collaborated closely with research team members to design experiments, collect data, and interpret results

Hasbro Children's Hospital, Connect for Health Advocate Volunteer

Providence, RI | Jan 2022-May 2023

- Coordinated community resource connections, ensuring that patients and families had access to WIC, SNAP, and other income based assistance programs and services
- Entered provider referrals into an online database, maintaining meticulous records of patient information and caseloads

Skills: Microsoft Office Excel, PowerPoint, Adobe Creative Suite, WordPress, Google Apps, R Studio, Slack, Database management, research, public speaking, journalism, problem solving, critical thinking, Management, Social media content creator