dreamy Santorini

A BLUEPRINT FOR ELEVATED R&R

Be prepared to remind yourself this is really real when you arrive because Santorini presents the timeless beauty of Greece in all its glory. It is the world's most picturesque island with one-of-a-kind views that redefine the word "charming." This cliffside paradise showcases white-washed buildings adorned with striking, blue-domed roofs that harmonize with sweeping panoramas of the sea and an ominous caldera (formed from a volcanic eruption thousands of years ago). Explore ancient streets that wind through villages way above the sea, where you will find tavernas with out-of-this-world Mediterranean cuisine and boutiques filled with chic local fashions and artisan souvenirs to bring home and remember your visit.

Cosmopolitan Mykonos

WHERE VIBRANT ENERGY
MEETS AEGEAN TRANQUILITY

O ften referred to as the

"Manhattan of the Aegean," Mykonos is one of the most famous resort islands in the world. Soak up the sun on its pristine beaches and stroll through the posh boutiques that celebs and jet-setters peruse for the latest beachy fashions. The magnetic charm of Mykonos is not just about the beautiful Cycladic architecture, the outstanding Mediterranean cuisine and the luxe beaches, it's also a place to see and be seen. This is where the glitterati come to chill, where Hercules was said to fight off invading giants. It was named after the grandson of the Greek God Apollo – quite a lot to live up to – and Mykonos delivers on all of it.

Mykonos emanates an energetic vibe.

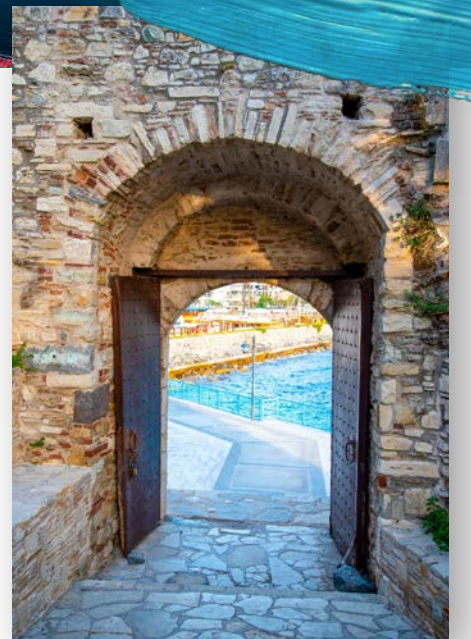

K

usadasi, President Club's Turkish port, is a place of ancient secrets and coastal majesty. The gorgeous beaches are beyond perfect for sunbathing, swimming, watersports and seaside dining. The bustling Kusadasi markets are a must for incredibly fresh spices and herbs, along with essential finds like authentic Turkish carpets. The ancient city of Ephesus and the nearby Temple of Artemis – one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World – take you back to the cradle of Western Civilization and might even make you feel like a time traveler. This adventure is truly where the fine art of leisure meets the allure of wondrous discovery and majestic natural beauty.

GET Swept Away IN THE ROMANCE of

Step onto the sun-kissed shores of Santorini and take in one of the most famous islands on Earth. The dramatic cliffs dotted with whitewashed buildings and blue-domed roofs stand in striking contrast to the panoramas of the Aegean Sea, creating a visually stunning setting. Santorini's majestic natural beauty combined with its rich history, welcoming hospitality and mouthwatering Mediterranean cuisine make this island the gem of Greece!

Explore the winding streets of Santorini's capital city of Fira perched high on the cliffs and offering sweeping views of Santorini's caldera. You'll find boutiques to browse for locally made jewelry, fashions and crafts, such as leather goods and pottery. It's a fantastic place to shop for beautiful one-of-a-kind gifts and keepsakes to remember your visit.

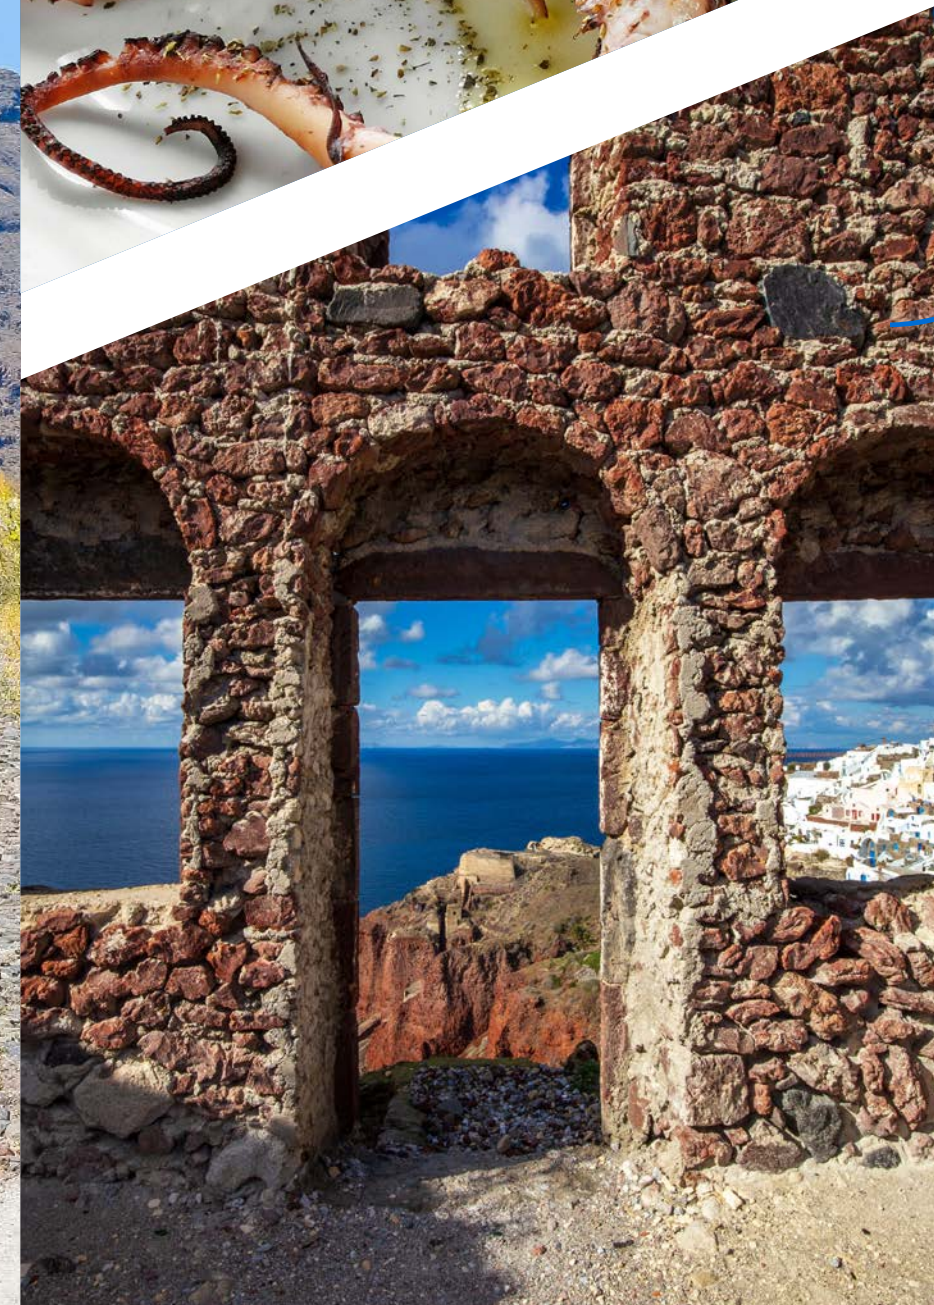

Head to Fira's Museum of Prehistoric Thira if you're interested in diving into the cultural scene. See archeological artifacts from the island's ancient past. Another worthwhile cultural stop is the Megaro Gyzi Museum, which features historical exhibits of the island.

Santorini got its half-moon shape thousands of years ago from a catastrophic volcanic eruption. Legend has it that the massive-scale volcano inspired the stories of the fabled lost city of Atlantis.

SANTORINI

Fira is also the starting point of several hiking trails, including the famous Fira to Oia hike. This trail offers amazing views along the caldera and takes you to the neighboring cliffside town of Oia, where you can venture to the Oia Castle for unforgettable views, enjoy a delicious meal at a taverna and wander through its boutiques and art galleries. Book lovers will want to make a stop at Oia's Atlantis Books. Known as one of the top ten bookstores in the world, it's located on the main marble street of Oia and offers books in numerous languages, including English.

a trip to Santorini would not be complete without a stop at one of its tavernas. Santorini's cuisine is a delightful fusion of Mediterranean flavors, where the freshest seafood in Europe, sun-ripened tomatoes and aromatic herbs create culinary magic. Grilled octopus, succulent shrimp and fresh-caught fish are among the flavors of the sea that will delight your taste buds. Try pairing your meal with one of Santorini's locally made wines, such as the Assyrtiko, a dry white wine with hints of citrus.

As your time at port comes to an end, and you say goodbye to Santorini, watch the sunset over the caldera, as it casts its warm hues upon the charming island. It's unforgettable Santorini's way of saying until we meet again or in Greek, "Εἰς το εἰπανιδεῖν (eis to epanideín)."

HOTSPOT

Luxury yachts are anchored in the harbors. A gorgeous summer wind is blowing and the water's extremely inviting. Upscale beachfront parties, high-end boutiques, chic bars and exquisite fine dining are all part of the scene.

COME ON OUT TO WHERE THE COOL CROWD PLAYS! MYKONOS IS ONE OF THE MOST FAMOUS RESORT ISLANDS IN THE WORLD, WHERE EXOTIC BEACHY ELEGANCE AND OUTSTANDING GOOD TIMES RULE IN AN INCOMPARABLE PICTURESQUE SETTING.

andering around and letting the island be your guide is easy, but why not start with a stroll through Mykonos Town? It's an idyllic labyrinth of Cycladic white-washed buildings and narrow stone alleyways. Explore these ancient streets and you'll discover hip boutiques and trendy shops for some well-deserved retail therapy. You'll find the latest fashions, locally made jewelry, as well as Mykonos art and artisan crafts. For a moment of relaxation, stop at one of the upscale cafes for a frothy cappuccino and some people watching.

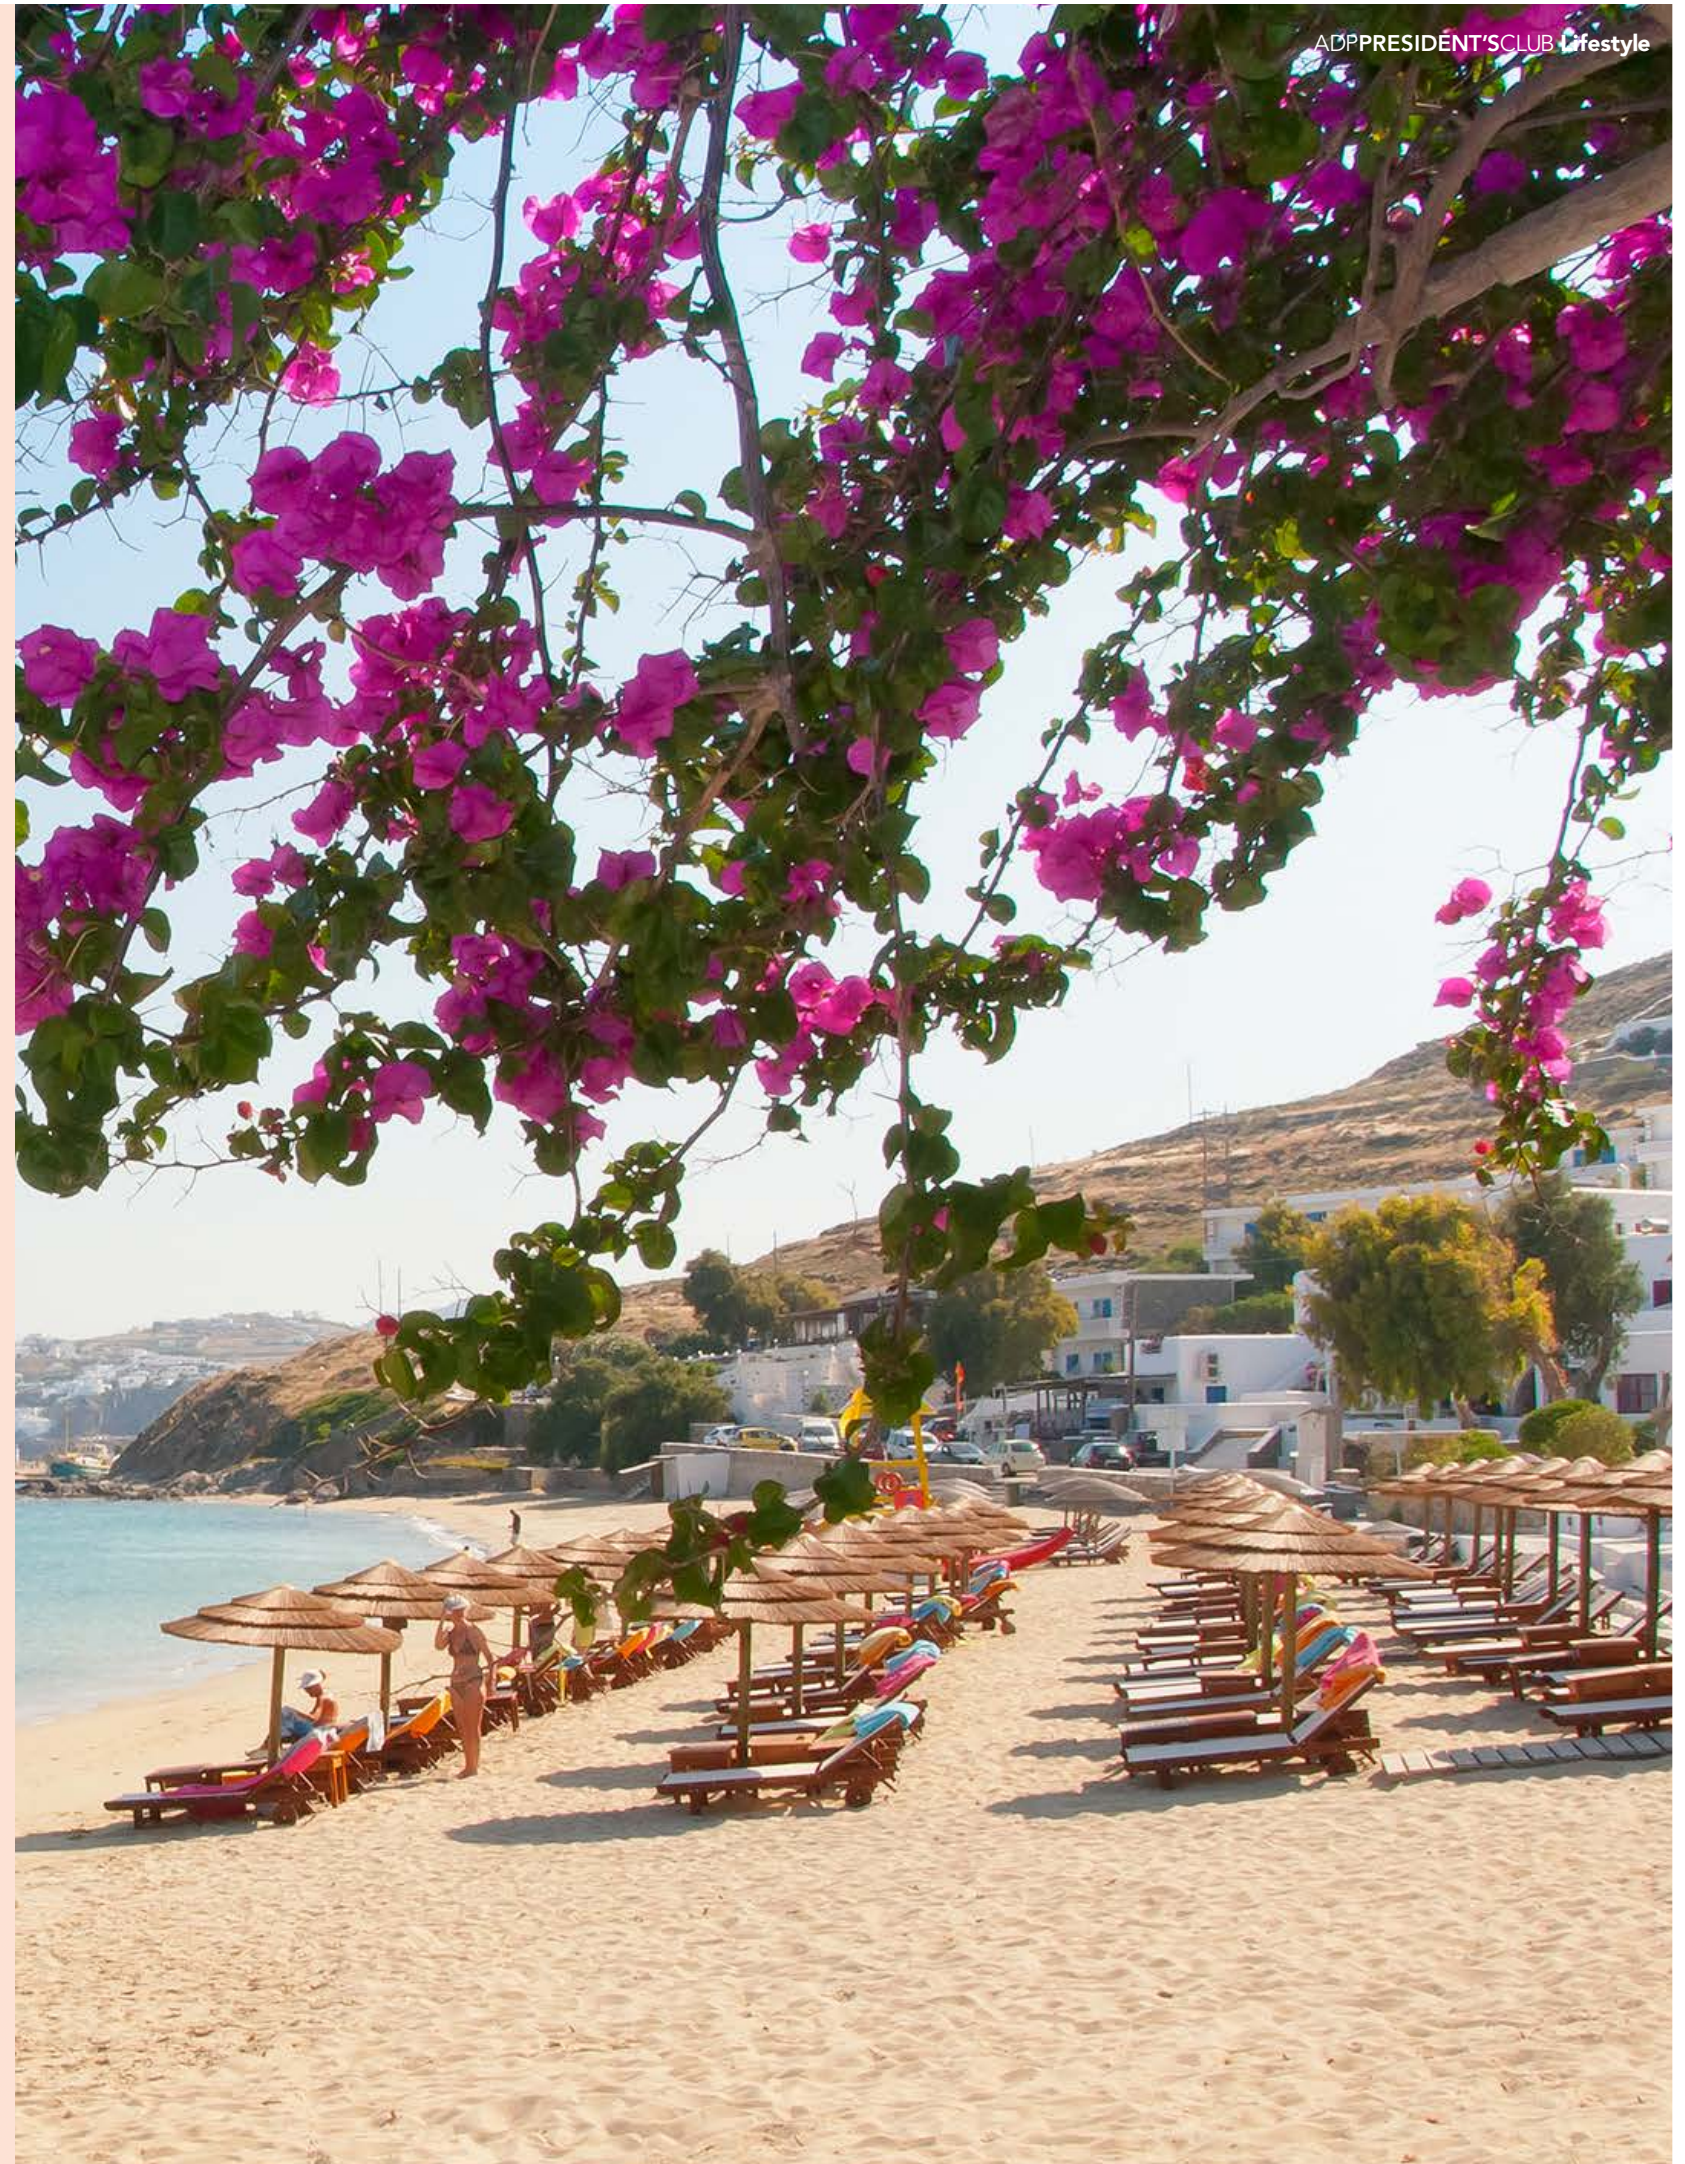

Head over to the windmills of Mykonos Town for amazing photo ops. The windmills, once used to mill wheat, stand today as iconic reminders of the island's ancient past.

While in town, be sure to make a stop at the Insta-famous church of Panagia Paraportiani, a remarkable cultural landmark with a deep history. Nearby, Little Venice is a charming neighborhood with colorful Venetian-style homes at the edge of the sea. Originally built by wealthy Venetian merchants, many of these historic buildings have been converted to clubs and fine-dining establishments, some with outdoor seating on the sea for a truly exquisite and romantic meal.

Beach connoisseur? Then Mykonos is gonna be your jam!! This beach scene is spectacular, with pristine sandy shores, inviting crystal-clear waters and plenty of activities to enjoy – from jet skiing and paddleboarding to kiteboarding and beyond. Mykonos is also a premier beach club destination, where you can swim, dance, dine and revel in the carefree spirit of the island. There is no shortage of plush sunbeds at Mykonos' attentive beach clubs, where staffers cater to your every want and need. Head over to Paradise Beach or any of its neighboring beaches for the vibrant beach club scene, complete with DJs spinning tunes, delicious cuisine and refreshing cocktails.

MYKONOS' ENDURING CHARM IS CERTAIN TO LEAVE YOU WITH UNFORGETTABLE MEMORIES. ~

KUSADASI

A PERFECT HARMONY OF THE ANCIENT AND MODERN

F ALL IN LOVE WITH ROMANTIC KUSADASI. Turkey is a cultural crossroads where the east meets the west and Kusadasi is its favorite seaside playground. Colorful fishing boats bob in its majestic harbor, hugged by a sweeping promenade leading to a medieval castle overlooking the Aegean. Step off our ship to enjoy your first glimpse of the warm and generous Turkish hospitality. Dancers in colorful costumes and accompanying musicians playing beautiful Turkish melodies are likely to greet you. A wide spectrum of licensed tour guides also stand ready to take you on the exploration of your dreams through this magical land.

ADPPRESIDENT'SCLUB Lifestyle

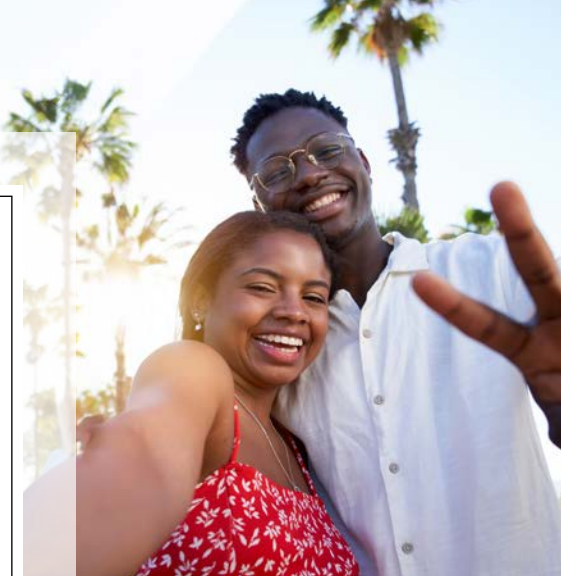

Curious to experience one of the most significant ancient cities in the world? A short 30-minute drive takes you to the ruins of Ephesus. Ephesus was the second-largest city in the world at its peak during the Roman period and dates back 3,000 years. Once a center of commerce, culture and learning, Ephesus provides fascinating insights into ancient urban life. People come from all over the world to marvel at its structures such as the Library of Celsus and the Great Theatre, where gladiator fights took place in front of up to 24,000 spectators. The area covers two square miles, making it one of the largest and most significant archeological sites in the Mediterranean, if not the world. History buffs might also visit the nearby remains of the Temple of Artemis, one of the Seven Ancient Wonders of the World.

In the bustling markets and bazaars of Kusadasi, the air is filled with enticing aromas of Turkish spices and freshly brewed tea and the din of bargaining. The seemingly endless markets include cafés with savory Turkish meals, and boutiques with one-of-a-kind keepsakes. Each shop tells a story inviting you deeper into the rich Turkish culture.

YOU'LL FIND AMAZINGLY FRESH SPICES TO BRING HOME. THE LOCAL VENDORS ARE ADEPT CONSULTANTS AND WILL EVEN PACKAGE YOUR SPICES FOR FRESHNESS.

For those looking for fun, sun and sea, Kusadasi's beaches are stunning and pristine, relaxing and lively. Among the popular beaches that boast gorgeous surf and sand is Ladies Beach, a luxuriant stretch of sandy shoreline and crystal-clear waters in a lively party scene with cafés, restaurants and shops. With a magnificent view of Kusadasi's Pigeon Island and the spectacular cruise ships docked in the port, Ladies Beach is an ideal place to sunbathe and watch the world go by.

THIS POPULAR SPOT FOR SWIMMING AND SUNBATHING ALSO BUZZES WITH A VARIETY OF WATER SPORTS, SUCH AS JET SKIING, PARASAILING AND PADDLEBOARDING.

Turkish cuisine stretches far beyond the kebab. Savor fresh-caught salt-baked seabass. Try the meze – small plates of appetizers such as baba ghanoush, falafel, hummus and dolma. Turkish tea is a must-try as is the frothy Ayran, a cold savory yogurt-based beverage. As your day at port comes to a close, consider relaxing at a beachfront café for a Turkish coffee and the tantalizing sweetness of baklava, a flakey pastry layered with honey and nuts. Kusadasi is a window into ancient civilization and a vibrant mosaic just waiting for you to explore.

Aegean TREASURES

Discover hidden gems and local icons. Delight in ancient Aegean traditions and indulge in the locals' favorite flavors. While you're wandering through the vibrant markets and breathtaking vistas be sure to explore the things that make these places globally renowned. Here's a cheat sheet on the best of the best.

MASCOT OF MYKONOS

If you see a pelican walking amongst a crowd of people in Mykonos Town, that's totally normal. In 1958, a fisherman found a wounded pelican, nursed him back to health and set him free. But he decided to hang out around town. Locals named him "Petros," which translates to old and grumpy in Greek. Petros died in 1985, but he was so well-loved that three pelicans were brought to Mykonos Town to continue his legacy.

SPECIALTY COCKTAIL ANYONE?

Rakomelo is a Greek liqueur derived from two types of grape brandy, honey and spices. High in antioxidants, it's traditionally been used as a home remedy for a sore throat or cough. It's usually served warm on a Winter day, but in the Summer, you'll usually find it mixed into a refreshing cocktail.

EXPERIENCE THE DOLMA

A staple of Greek and Turkish cuisine, dolmas are a culinary delight that represent hospitality. They are a traditional food consisting of vine leaves wrapped around savory fillings of rice, herbs and minced meat, offal, seafood or fruit.

LAVA LUXE

Dive into the world of Grecian volcanic ash-infused cosmetics, a beauty secret as ancient as the mythic lands of the Greek Islands. Volcanic cosmetics are perfect for those seeking that ethereal island glow. These products are the secret weapon to elevate your skincare game for that perfect post-beach glow!!

GREEK ISLE'S SWEET QUINCE

Quince preserves are treasured spoon sweets of the Greek Islands. Savor this local delicacy made from aromatic quince fruit. These preserves are a delectable mix of sweet and tart flavors. Enjoy this Grecian culinary gem as a breakfast spread or an awesome addition to a charcuterie platter.

HANDMADE JEWELRY

Mykonian-style jewelry mixes gold-tone precious metals with deep colored gemstones, creating patterns and hues that bring glamour and playfulness to your look. Charms and pendants like eyes, olive leaves, and spirals add the allure. You won't have to travel far on Mykonos to find beautiful jewelry. The island is filled with stores and vendors featuring a wide spectrum of designs at varying price points.

THE NATIONAL DRINK

Ouzo is Greece's national drink. Produced exclusively in Greece, it is said to date all the way back to the 14th century, where monks on Mount Athos first distilled the anise flavored spirit. It's often served with water, as mixing Ouzo with water helps bring out the fragrances and gives it its milky white appearance. Take home a bottle and remember your epic time on the Greek Isles.

THE MOST DELIGHTFUL CONFECTION

Turkish delight, or as it's called locally - "Rahat Lokum," is the quintessential Turkish confection. Small, cubed, sweet and sprinkled with powdered sugar, it's found in almost all corners of Turkey. Legend has it that the soft candy was created for the Sultan of Turkey because he complained about breaking his teeth on hard candy. Fast-forward about 250 years, and Turkish delight is still putting smiles on peoples' faces, with teeth intact.

SPICE IT UP

Cumin, Oregano, Coriander, Dill, Turmeric, Cinnamon... the smells fill the air. As you stroll through the streets of Kusadasi, you'll see colorful spices and herbs for sale everywhere!! Take home some authentic Turkish spices and recreate the flavors of Turkish cuisine. Or gift them to that special foodie in your life.

THE BLUE EYE

A popular symbol in Greek culture, the blue eye is said to ward off the evil eye and bring good luck. The blue color is thought to represent calmness and serenity. You can find bracelets and necklaces adorned with this simple, yet strong eye charm, all over the island of Santorini.

OLIVE OIL SOAP

Olive oil is a staple ingredient in most Mediterranean dishes, and in Greece, that's no exception. But its uses go beyond what you'll find on the kitchen table. Pick up some olive oil soap, full of healthy vitamins to give your skin that extra glow.

CERAMIC ARTS

Pottery is thought to have existed in the ancient city of Ephesus since 6,000 BC, giving Kusadasi, and Turkey as a whole, quite a deep history in the ceramic arts. Today, Turkish pottery is distinguished by shell strength and rich colors, which do not fade and are said to last centuries. Walk over to Hacivat Shop in Kusadasi, for the most incredible selection of stunning Turkish pottery.

WORRY NOT!!

Just like Ouzo... Komboloi, or Greek worry beads, are said to have originated with monks on Mount Athos. However nowadays, the beads are not used for religious purpose, but for fun! There is an art and style to creating specific movements with the beads while holding them in your hands. If you can master moves like the "repeater" and the "fake grip change" while you're at Club... you'll pass for a local wherever you go!

THE COFFEE BEAN

Turkish coffee has been described as a "lifestyle." It's the oldest coffee brewing method, invented in the 16th century during the Ottoman Empire. It's prepared in a long handled pot, called a cezve, and served in a small cup similar in size to an Espresso cup. Oh, and since Turkish coffee is unfiltered, the fine grounds settle at the bottom of the cup.

BZZZ... SOMETHIN' SWEET

Greek honey is regarded as some of the best in the world. Why? Because the Aegean Summers present the most perfect conditions for beekeeping...nearly unlimited sun and low humidity. In the Santorini markets, look for a local raw thyme honey, like the Santomeli brand.

TURKISH LEATHER

Turkey is one of the world's top producers of high-quality leather goods, and what separates Turkish leather from the rest is the quality of the raw ingredients and the attention to detail during the production process. It's a Turkish industry that can trace its roots all the way back to the 12th century. You'll find jackets, shoes, sandals and all different types of leather bags as fine examples of this centuries-old Turkish tradition.

YOU SAY TOMATO

Vibrant crimson colored Cherry Santorini tomatoes, or tomatines, are unique because they don't grow anywhere else in the world, and their taste comes from the island's rich volcanic soil. They were once so sought after on the island that they were even used as currency. Enjoy them in a traditional Tomatokeftedes (tomato fritter), with a dip of Tzatziki.
