

3 Surprising Reasons That Your Tarot Reading Predictions Were a Dud

You get a reading and it's everything you hoped it would be. Two weeks later nothing that the reader said has happened.

What the insert colorful sentence enhancer here

Here's a few reasons why a reading may not have come true:

1. You have trauma or blockages you need to heal- your energy is like a car. If the car needs repair you are going to have a very rough time getting to your destination. You have to heal first.
2. If the reading was about a person- the person and you both have free will. That means if your person of interest makes a choice that isn't aligned with your goals it's not going to workout.
3. The universe has a different and happier plan for you- sometimes the things we want as hard as we try to manifest them may come to us in a different form. If you're trying really hard to make a goal happen and it isn't, chances are the universe is redirecting your course to get you into alignment.

In our soul alignment session you will:

-  Release what is holding you back in life, career, college, and your soul growth.
-  Connect with your animal spirit guides for clear direction on what next steps you need to take.
-  Clear your energy to call in all you are manifesting.

Visit the link in my bio to learn more.