

SUMMARY

A highly motivated trainee journalist with an undergraduate degree from the number one Journalism course in the UK. Throughout my three years studying Journalism I have honed my skills in research, writing and multimedia storytelling, contributing to a dynamic newsroom environment. My experience includes sourcing and conducting interviews, news and feature writing, TV and radio broadcasting and producing content under tight deadlines. My passion for uncovering significant and compelling stories drives me to continuously learn and adapt in the fast-paced world of journalism.
