

HIPOPDX'S RISING STARS 2022: 10 NEW RAPPERS BUILDING THEIR EMPIRE

Time and time again, new rappers have proven to be the saving grace for the future of Rap music. It doesn't matter if their energy is referred to as "TikTok" Rap or a trendier term, the game can always count on the newcomers to impact Hip Hop history.

Following up from the inaugural 2021 Rising Stars year, HipHopDX is proud to introduce our Rising Stars for 2022. Over the past year, we have monitored these 10 new artists and predicted their trajectory through their social presence and musical style. More than anything, their music has many qualities that make them worth checking out.

So what is a HipHopDX Rising Star, exactly? A Rising Star is a burgeoning talent we pinpoint within the year before or after their initial introduction and rollout of new rap music. These are the top artists that we feel have the ideal total package in terms of their musical sound, performance and genuine personalities.

Over the course of the year, we will highlight their career progression through exclusive features, interviews, playlists and other surprises.

Much like our past new rappers' iterations of Rising Stars (42 Dugg, BLEU, Blxst, DDG, Foogiano, Flo Milli, Morray, Sheff G, Sleepy Hallow and Toosii) the Rising Stars 2022 will undeniably set the bar for a fresh batch of talent for Hip Hop this year.

I don't know if it's because I'm old and crotchety but why do I never care about new rappers? Why am I always left thoroughly unimpressed?
