

Weekly Roundup

Hi Eileen,

Hope you have had an awesome week. We're keen to get your thoughts on some of the biggest issues affecting the early years' sector.

Last week several reports highlighted gaps in funding, which impact the poorest people in our society. Nurseries are struggling to keep up. We want to know whether you've been affected by any of the issues we've highlighted on our blog. If so, be sure to get in touch and let us know your thoughts!

Send all emails to: janine@thatnurserylife.com

Featured Story

Campaigners Protest Over SEND Funding

In recent times, a series of national rallies have been organised in protest over the lack of SEND funding. Thousands of families with children who have special educational needs and disabilities attended the protests, according to Send National Crisis.

Read More

Tough Questions

Why Should I Wear Sunscreen?

As the weather slowly starts to get warmer, children will be spending more time outside. As they spend more time in the sun, it will become more important for children to use sunscreen.

Read More

Editor's Picks:

How to Ask Your Boss For a Pay Rise

The truth is that convincing your boss to pay you more for the same task is going to be an uphill struggle unless you can demonstrate that you are giving more value to the company.

Read More

Featured Guest Blog

Funding Shortfall for Special Needs Children

Funding for children with special educational needs is not always adequate to provide the extra support, training needed by staff at these settings.

Read More

Have you got a story to share? Is there anything we missed that you think we should feature? Let us know by emailing: janine@thatnurserylife.com