- Here is some of the ideas I was talking in the last email I send you of can you still being active in your webpage while you are taking care of your mom. The blog is really good, and that is why you must share in the social media to have more subscribers and also views.

First idea: Share the articles in social media, this is a template of how your page can look, they can share any article and then the whole page.

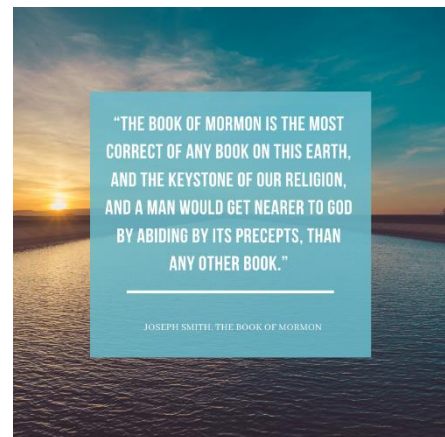

I will be sent again the new template for the blog; it is a video picture with the name of your webpage. Since your blog is about the Book of Mormon, I thought that your ideas and the web must transmit calm.

- Ad on Facebook, the name of the webpage is there, but also when they click in the picture, will sent the people to the link.

- This are the quotes that can be related with the article. Your lectors can identify with the quotes and shared with others. I think it is easier to see, we can put the name of the website on the quote so that people can then visit your website

- This are the primordial ideas I have for your page, I hope you like it and that will help you more to organized your webside.
