

Be Buzzworthy – Take the S/4 Change Readiness Survey

Yes, we're resorting to cartoon insects to get your attention. It stings a little, but we do what we must to get you to lend your voice to the chorus of your colleagues doing likewise, by taking just ten minutes (tops! You might type faster) to participate in the S/4 Change Readiness and Adoption Survey. There are two days remaining to complete this Survey, which will close end of day Friday, November 17, 2023.

Here's the link to the Survey: Change Readiness Survey

Your participation is important – we actually use the insights we gather from the input we receive, helping the project continue our ways of working while embracing data and relying on insights to impact decision making.

ADDED BONUS: You can make your team look good. We've been tallying responses across workstreams and presenting a little graphic below to see how they stack up against one another. It's true – we're all one BIG TEAM, but ... do you really want your workstream to lose to those other workstreams?

Why not create a little BUZZ and contribute your thoughts for the greater good of the project while you're at it? Thanks in advance for sharing, and for helping us Deliver Today and Predict Tomorrow.
