sparks fly.*

Sadie

I've always been religious, and any man who comes into my life needs to understand that I have a strong moral compass. One day I hope to settle down with someone who shares my values and desire for a family and a wholesome life. There is no room for anything less, no room for speed bumps or roadblocks. Then one man threw a wrench in my spinning tire. That man made me question my beliefs and what true faith really is. Ben

Cooper—my very own sinner.

Each blow to the face feels glorious. I crave the pain from my back alley opponent. The high I get from each fight that I provoke is the same one I get when I strum my guitar and hit the high notes on the mic. Violence is my decadence and music is my redemption. I love beautiful women, the taste of whiskey on my tongue, and the smell of tobacco on my breath. I'm a man with no morals and no plan. I'm a man with only the promise of the day I'm living. Until I find the most beautiful melody, fully dressed and with a cross around her neck. Sadie McCallister—my very own saint.

CC Monroe was born in the sunshine state of California. She now lives in Utah with her real-life book husband and beautiful sons, spending her days working and her nights locked away writing the stories her readers can't get enough of: angst-filled, plot-driven, insanely sexy stories—just the way we like them. CC has one liners, can be witty on the spot, and curses like a sailor. Her best friend is coffee with a side of sarcasm.
