

Documentary & Corporate Videos Showcase

A. Biographical (Life Stories)

1. Trevor Noah Biography

Autobiographies are my passion. I've read a lot of them, and they feel like life's ultimate cheat sheet—using someone else's experiences to shape your own. Working on this biography of Trevor Noah was an absolute joy because he's not just insightful but also hilarious. His journey is filled with both struggles and triumphs, and I loved bringing his story to life through engaging visuals and narrative flow.

2. Biographical Stress Turned Success

This project tested my patience, but it was worth it! The voiceover had to be re-recorded multiple times due to script issues, causing a fair bit of stress. Despite the hurdles, I worked closely with the client to make the necessary changes, and the final product was polished and engaging. I'm proud of how it turned out and its potential to go viral.

3. The Rock's Autobiography for The Thoughts Club

You've heard of Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson, right? Working on this biography was a highlight for me. Even though I hoped to become a long-term retainer for the YouTube channel, the experience was still incredibly valuable. You can see a clear improvement in my editing techniques here—every cut, transition, and graphic was designed to showcase my growing expertise in storytelling and editing.

B. Social Issues (Current Events, Social Commentary)

1. Coronavirus Explainer Video

This explainer on the coronavirus was a deep dive into a global issue that changed the world. Although the client opted to do the voiceover himself (against my recommendation), I made sure that my visuals, transitions, and overall video structure were flawless. I believe it could've gone viral with a professional voiceover, but I still delivered top-tier content that exceeded expectations.

2. U.S. Presidential Elections History (1789-2020)

This was a fast-paced project that required meticulous attention to detail. Covering every U.S. presidential election from 1789 to 2020, I made sure to follow the client's instructions down to the smallest details. To top it off, I completed this while juggling my law school exams! This project demonstrates my commitment to delivering under pressure without sacrificing quality.

C. Company Overviews (Corporate Values/History)

1. The Unbelievable Story of Starbucks

As a huge fan of coffee, working on this corporate overview for Starbucks was a dream come true. This video dives deep into the company's values and history, showcasing how they became a global phenomenon. I infused the narrative with engaging visuals that reflect the essence of Starbucks, ensuring that the company's journey was portrayed as both inspiring and informative.

These documentary and corporate video projects highlight my range of skills in storytelling, attention to detail, and ability to tackle a variety of topics from biographical profiles to complex social issues and corporate histories. Whether it's about personal journeys or company legacies, I am committed to delivering videos that captivate and inform, always with a professional and polished touch.
