

Mead Madness

The Mead Song - Brothers of Metal

This is a game about Death, Mead, and a Goat!

You are dead viking warriors passing the time in Valhalla before Ragnarok arrives by drinking, competing for glory by out-drinking each other.

Set Up

You will need drinks for everyone, a jenga tower, a large bowl, and a 'goat' (a large object). Everyone must have a drink, and the goat must be on the other side of the room.

Each round has two steps - Mead! and Another! Repeat these until the game ends.

The Hall of The Fallen

If chosen in death there is room for you too!

Everyone rolls to determine their Viking name.

Name		Descriptor (Optional)
1	Bjom	1	The Bear
3	Harald	3	The Brave
2	Erik	2	The Defiant
6	Olaf	6	The Fierce
4	Ivar	4	The Magnificent
5	Magnus	5	The Wild

If at any point anyone forgets another viking's name, or refers to them by the wrong one, they must take a drink.

Mead!

Drink brother drink, there's no need to think!

One Viking challenges another Viking to a drinking contest.

They both down their drinks.

The losing viking must then be the one to challenge someone next round.

Another!

Pour me another and you'll be my brother!

Any empty drinks are refilled, and the winning viking must remove and replace one block in the jenga tower.

Punch!

We kill each other every day!

A viking can attempt to sabotage other vikings by adding something else to their drink in a bid to get them to refuse to drink.

Goat!

Into the mist the she-goat will us lead!

At any point a viking can shout "Goat!"

Everyone still in the game must stop whatever they are doing to run over to the 'goat' and put their hand on it.

The last player to do must take a drink.

The game then resumes as normal.

RAGNAROK COUNTDOWN

The final battle call!

If at any point the jenga tower falls before the game is over, Ragnarok has begun and all thoughts of revelry are over.

Any remaining drinks in glasses are added to the communal bowl before the resulting drink is shared out between all vikings who must toast odin before sharing their final drink and rushing off to fight Fenrir.

Winning

We drink until we fall!

If a viking taps out, forfeits, refuses the challenge, or goes to the bathroom, they lose.

They must pour any leftover drink from their glass into the communal bowl.

They are no longer required to drink, but can still Punch! and Goat!

Repeat until only one viking is left standing. They are the victor and have bragging rights until the next game.

Alternate Rules

Welcome to the Land of No Hangovers! Play with no alcohol.

No Mead is too strong! Play with shots.
