

Yesterday, state police arrested Jeb Daly in Huntington for the Disinterring/ Improper Disposal of his girlfriend's body.

At noon yesterday, the Hampshire Detective Unit responded to what they believed to be a missing persons case at 8 Rocky Brook Drive, according to state trooper Geraldine Bresnahan's police report. The report said that the long term couple, Jessica Dana and Jeb Daly, hosted a party at their residence Sunday evening. The couple had been drinking and bickered back and forth throughout the night, Bresnahan wrote. In the police report, witnesses also stated that Mr. Daly was the last person to be seen with Ms. Dana. Despite his girlfriend going missing sometime Sunday evening, Mr. Daly did not notify police until 5:00 p.m. Monday, the report said. Upon arrival at the residence yesterday afternoon, friends and family were also present, according to state trooper Bresnahan. While questioning Mr. Daly on his girlfriend's whereabouts, police said that two friends located a long box containing a green plastic bag. A human hand appeared to be visible from the box, Bresnahan wrote. At this point, Mr. Daly fled the residence and was placed in custody several hours later when he resurfaced from a wooded area, the police report said.

"While attempting to speak with Mr. Daly inside the residence, SPDU investigators noted that Mr. Daly appeared extremely nervous and seemed keenly focused on what the individuals outside the house were doing and where they were going. At one point, it appeared as though Mr. Daly had actually urinated through his pants while in the investigators' presence. "

Mr. Daly's lawyer, Dustin Christensen, declined to comment on the charges against his client.
