Under his leadership, the Hall of Fame has posted record attendance and financial performance annually for each of the past three years. Relationship-building has been a core emphasis, and the Hall's position with the 180+ living Hall of Famers, the families of deceased enshrinees and the National Football League and its 32 member teams has never been stronger.

The Hall has embarked on a major modernization project that will make the Pro Football Hall of Fame the No. 1 sports museum in the country. New exhibits focusing on the new classes of enshrinees, "Character" and Super Bowl champions are bringing deeper relevance to the museum.

Porter joined the Hall team in March 2020 as the Chief Marketing & Communications Officer, responsible for overseeing the staff that implemented the Hall's strategies in those areas on a daily basis and surrounding its major events.

Previously, he had worked as publisher of GateHouse Ohio Media, overseeing management of The Canton Repository, The Massillon Independent,

The Alliance Review, The Dover-New Philadelphia Times Reporter, About Magazine, Friday Night Ohio, The Suburbanite and Jackson Suburbanite and their related digital products for seven years. He held several executive management positions in the newspaper industry over his 33 years at The Repository. During his career, Porter won the prestigious International Newspaper Marketing Award for "best overall marketing results" and was recognized as one of Presstime Magazine's "20 Under 40" for the newspaper industry.

Porter served as chair of the NFL Centennial Host Committee. He serves or has served on several boards: Pro Football Hall of Fame, Pathway Caring for Children, ArtsinStark, Better Business Bureau, Canton Regional Chamber of Commerce, Special Improvement District for the City of Canton, Canton for All People, United Way of Greater Stark County and the City of Canton's Steering Committee.

The Pro Football Hall of Fame opened its doors over 60 years ago. From its humble beginnings in 1963 to today, the Pro Football Hall of Fame has grown in both size and stature. Recognized worldwide as America's premier sports Hall of Fame, it is doubtful that even the most optimistic of those who led the drive to bring the Hall of Fame to Canton, Ohio, could have envisioned the successes it would realize.

An exhilarating museum and attraction, the Hall of Fame pays tribute to the talents and triumphs of pro football's greatest stars. Chronicled within the walls of the Hall of Fame are the stories and circumstances of play that bring to life such words as Commitment, Integrity, Courage, Respect and Honesty.

The Pro Football Hall of Fame has welcomed more than 10 million fans. Each year, visitors travel from each of the 50 states in the United States and from upward of 70 foreign countries to tour the Hall of Fame.

Today, the Hall of Fame reaches tens of millions of additional football fans each year through broad outreach, such as nationally televised events, an in-depth website, educational and youth programs, social media and special exhibits and events staged around the country.

The Pro Football Hall of Fame works collaboratively with the pro football family – the National Football League, the 32 NFL clubs and other entities. The cooperative efforts of all these organizations have contributed greatly to the overall success of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. In turn, the Hall strives to serve as the best possible historical showplace and repository for the sport of professional football.

The Pro Football Hall of Fame, after a stringent review process, achieved accreditation by the American Alliance of Museums (AAM), the highest national recognition afforded to the nation's museums, in 2017. Accreditation signifies excellence to the museum community, to governments, funders, outside agencies and to the museum-going public. The Hall of Fame is one of just over 1,109 of the estimated 33,000 museums (a mere 3%) in the United States to earn AAM accreditation. The Pro Football Hall of Fame was the first major sports museum to be accredited.

The Hall of Fame is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit educational institution guided by its Mission to "Honor the Greatest of the Game, Preserve its History, Promote its Values & Celebrate Excellence Together."

HISTORY

The Pro Football Hall of Fame is located in Canton, Ohio, for three primary reasons: (1) the American Professional Football Association, later renamed the National Football League, was founded in Canton on Sept. 17, 1920; (2) the Canton Bulldogs were an early era pro football power, even before the days of the NFL. They were also the first two-time champion of the NFL, in 1922 and 1923. The great Jim Thorpe, the first big-name athlete to play pro football, played his first pro football with the Bulldogs, starting in 1915; and (3) Canton citizens early in the 1960s launched a determined and well-organized campaign to earn the site designation for their city.

The National Football League awarded the site for the Hall of Fame to Canton in 1961. Groundbreaking for the original construction took place on Aug. 11, 1962, and the Hall opened its doors for the first time on Sept. 7, 1963. Four expansions were completed over the years (1971, 1978, 1995 and 2012-13) that have resulted in the museum growing from its original 19,000 square feet to today's 121,000-square-foot football facility.

Jim Porter was named president on Oct. 16, 2021. Previous presidents or executive directors of the Hall of Fame were: Dick McCann (1962-67), Dick Gallagher (1968-1975), Pete Elliott (1979-1996), John Bankert (1996-2005), Steve Perry (2006-2014) and David Baker (2014-2021).

HOURS OF OPERATION

The Pro Football Hall of Fame is open every day of the year except for Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas. From Memorial Day weekend through Labor Day, it is open daily from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. The hours for the remainder of the year are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Information on visiting the Hall of Fame can be found at: ProFootballHOF.com/Visit.

INSIDE THE HALL

The Pro Football Hall of Fame is a world-renowned museum that represents its sport in many colorful and entertaining ways. The Hall of Fame continually enhances its exhibits and displays to provide guests with an immersive and experiential visit to "Football Heaven."

Visitors enter the museum through the grand lobby at the center of the building. This area also features a special exhibit gallery. Guests then begin their visit by walking through a time tunnel of images featuring players from current years spanning back to the beginning of the National Football League. The visitor experience explodes with a visually dynamic and interactive two-level exhibit area in the Hall of Fame's original rotunda.

"The NFL's First Century Gallery" ground level includes a towering bronze statue of Jim Thorpe, considered a legend of pro football dating back to his days with the Canton Bulldogs beginning in 1915. The exhibits on the first level present a panoramic view using high-tech interactives and one-of-a-kind artifacts to tell the story of professional football, from its humble beginnings in the early 20th century to the phenomenon it has become today.

The second floor of "The NFL's First Century Gallery" features historical information regarding professional football in several dramatic themes. Inspirational stories of the game's pioneers, great players, coaches and circumstances are told in vivid detail. Pro football's societal impact is documented in "Road to Equality" and "Pop Culture." Bringing these themes to life are audio and video interactives and larger-than-life photographic murals.

Perhaps the most emotional stop during a tour of the museum is the "Hall of Fame Gallery" that houses the Bronze Bust of each Hall of Famer. Visitors also have the opportunity to learn about each member of the Hall through touch screen kiosks that include bios, photos and videos on the enshrinees.

After the "Hall of Fame Gallery," guests proceed to the "A Game for Life" holographic theater. This extraordinary multi-sensory immersive theater features holographic representations of Hall of Fame legends Joe Namath, George Halas and Vince Lombardi. The experience provides great inspiration to fans by showing them how the game of football also teaches lessons about life. The stories of numerous Hall of Famers – Jim Kelly, Steve Largent, Alan Page, Jim Brown, Warren Moon and Curtis Martin – are shared. "A Game for Life" was produced and created by some of the leading talent in the film industry and has received rave reviews.

"A Game of Life" immersive holographic experience

The "Pro Football Today Gallery" examines contemporary themes in the NFL. This area is filled with mementos from recent history-making performances, including many milestone moments from the most recent NFL seasons. Artifacts continually are placed on display as they are added to the Hall's extensive collection.

The "Lamar Hunt Super Bowl Gallery" chronicles, in dramatic fashion, the exciting history of the game from Super Bowl I to present. The gallery uses one-of-a-kind artifacts, exciting game footage and interactive kiosks to help tell the story of how the Super Bowl has become a global phenomenon.

RALPH WILSON, JR. PRO FOOTBALL RESEARCH AND PRESERVATION CENTER

The Mission of the Pro Football Hall of Fame is to "Honor the Greatest of the Game, Preserve its History, Promote its Values & Celebrate Excellence Together." Nowhere is this mission more evident than inside the Ralph Wilson, Jr. Pro Football Research and Preservation Center, which is named after the Class of 2009 enshrinee and Buffalo Bills late founder/owner.

Here is where the documentary evidence of the history of professional football is preserved. Within this state-of-the-art, 10,000-square-foot facility, a vast archive of more than 40 million pages of documents and primary source materials are protected with a climate-controlled system. Antonio Gates took one of the more unusual paths to the National Football League.

The San Diego Chargers signed him as an undrafted free agent in 2003 with modest expectations, considering Gates did not play a down of college football. Instead, he was a standout on the Kent State University basketball team – a power forward who helped the school to its first conference championship as a junior and a berth in the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament. As a senior, Gates earned honorable mention All-American status, averaging 20.6 points, 7.7 rebounds and 4.1 assists per game.

When pro basketball options appeared limited and with a love for football unfulfilled, Gates worked out for several NFL teams. The Chargers were rewarded for the chance they took by developing a player who became their all-time leader in catches (955), yards (11,841) and touchdowns (116) over a 16-season career that spanned 236 regular-season games.

Gates broke onto the scene in his second pro season, recording 81 receptions for 964 yards and 13 touchdowns, tied for the third most in a single season in franchise history. He earned the first of eight Pro Bowl nods and led the team in receiving, something he would accomplish a total of eight times (2004-09, 2011, 2013). The following season, Gates built on the prior year's success, catching 89 passes for 1,101 yards and 10 scores.

For his career, Gates topped 60 receptions in nine seasons, surpassing 700 yards receiving in each of those years. He played on six teams that qualified for the playoffs, with the Chargers claiming the best record in the AFC West Division each season.

His career numbers read 955 receptions for 11,841 yards, both third most among tight ends at the time of his retirement, and 116 touchdowns, the most all time for the position. Gates played in 12 playoff games, in which he recorded 51 catches for 540 yards, finding the end zone twice.

A member of the NFL's All-Decade Team of the 2000s (second unit, behind future Hall of Famer Tony Gonzalez), Gates earned first-team All-Pro honors three times (2004-06) and second-team honors twice (2009-2010).

Antonio Gates will embark upon 2017 on the cusp of history as he begins his 15th NFL season with 111 touchdown catches, tied for most in NFL history by a tight end and tied for sixth all-time.

It's been quite a journey for the former college basketball standout from Detroit who undoubtedly merits Pro Football Hall of Fame consideration when he hangs up his cleats.

Gates has been elected to eight Pro Bowls and five Associated Press All-Pro teams. He's a member of the NFL's All-Decade Team (2000-09), one of the 50 Greatest Chargers of All-Time, a four-time Chargers Offensive Player of the Year and a five-time Team Captain.

Gates is the franchise's all-time leader in career receptions (897), receiving yards (11,192) and touchdown catches (111). All-time among tight ends, Gates ranks third in receptions and receiving yards, and he's tied with Tony Gonzalez for first in touchdowns. Gates' 111 touchdown catches are the most in the NFL since he entered the league in 2003. He has 21-career multi-touchdown games during that stretch, most by a tight end in NFL history. And as one of the most clutch receivers in League history, Gates' 38 touchdown catches on third-down are fourth in NFL history and most by a tight end.

Eight times in 14 seasons, Gates has led the team in receiving touchdowns. He has four seasons with 10 or more touchdowns, the second in NFL history by a tight end.

Gates has led the team in catches eight times and yards five times. His 21 career 100-yard games are sixth in team annals.

Gates enjoyed one of his top statistical seasons in 2014, but it came on the heels of a personal tragedy. In July of that year, Gates' younger sister Pamela died after a three-year battle with Lupus. Gates missed the Chargers' entire off-season program so that he could remain in Detroit, close to his family. Gates and his sister were extremely close and her illness hit him hard. With his football home halfway across the country from his hometown, Gates even pondered retirement. The Chargers remained supportive, and Gates stayed by Pamela's bedside even as she lie in a coma for weeks before her passing. She died the day he ultimately returned to San Diego to join his teammates for the start of training camp. Gates made his peace with Pamela's illness before returning to Southern California and it provided both inspiration and a springboard for what lie ahead. He started the season on a tear, catching nine touchdown passes in the team's first eight games. It tied the team record for touchdowns in the first half of a season, and he ended the year with 12, tied for most in the NFL among tight ends. It also was his highest season tally since 2004. Gates had turned 34 two months before the 2014 season started and he became only the fourth 34-year-old player in NFL history with a 12-touchdown season, joining Cris Carter, Marvin Harrison and Terrell Owens.

Gates' route to the NFL has been well-chronicled. When he signed with the Chargers as an undrafted rookie in 2003, he had not played football since his senior season at Detroit's Central High School. He began his collegiate career at Michigan State under the assumption that he could play both football and basketball, but when then-football coach Nick Saban relented, Gates chose to focus on hoops and decided it was best to leave the East Lansing campus. An up-and-down start to his basketball career sent him to three different schools before he finally found a home at Kent State. He played there two seasons and helped lead the Golden Flashes to a 52-15 record and back-to-back Mid-American Conference championships. As a senior in 2002, Gates led the 10th seed Golden Flashes to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament with wins over No. 7 seed Oklahoma State, No. 2 seed Alabama and No. 3 seed Pittsburgh. An honorable mention All-America as a senior, Gates ended his career as the sixth-leading scorer in school history. In 2010, Gates had his No. 44 jersey retired by the school, and in May of this year, he was inducted into the Mid-American Conference's Hall of Fame during ceremonies in Cleveland.

With a disarming smile that has made him easily recognizable and approachable off the field, Gates is prominent community figure. When the NFL sought out spokespeople to appear in their "No More" campaign to stop domestic violence in 2014, Gates was among a select group of players asked to appear in a series of television public service announcements. He hosts an annual Shop with a Charger event in which he treats homeless, neglected and abused children to a special night that includes a Christmas shopping spree. A staunch supporter of the Huntington's Disease Society of America, Gates has served for some years as the honorary chairman for the Shoot to Cure HD, which raises much-needed research funds for the HD. Gates also has worked closely with Promises2Kids, an organization that offers support to the foster youth community.

And back in his hometown of Detroit, Gates is involved in boxing as the owner of AG Promotions.

He has a stable of young fighters and regularly stages fight cards in and around the Motor City. Gates' paternal grandfather, Henry Hank, was a professional boxer in the 1950s and '60s who went 62-31-4 with 40 wins by knockout as a middleweight and light heavy-weight. Hank's 1962 fight against Joey Giardello was voted the Fight of the Year by Ring Magazine. Old photos show a striking resemblance between Gates and his grandfather. Gates now works with his cousin, Tony Harrison, who is one of boxing's top young middleweights. Harrison is off to a 24-2-0 record with 20 wins by knockout to start his career.

Gates' wife, Sasha, is an aspiring R&B musician. Besides being a mother to the couple's two children, Sasha previously starred on the E! reality show WAGS. She also helps run the Dolling Foundation, which inspires women to maintain a strong sense of self by enhancing their natural beauty that was compromised by hair loss due to catastrophic illness or tragedy.

When Sterling Sharpe departed the University of South Carolina as a two-time All-American and the Gamecocks' all-time pass receiving and touchdown leader, the first-round draft pick of the Green Bay Packers successfully transitioned from the college game to the NFL and to the challenging game conditions often experienced in Green Bay.

During his seven seasons with the Packers, Sharpe achieved league-leading status in a number of categories and kept the team's record historians occupied.

In his second season in the NFL (1989) Sharpe led the league in single-season receptions with 90 and would again set the standard in both 1992 and 1993. During the 1992 campaign he set the NFL record at the time for catches in a season with 108 and toppled his own record by amassing 112 the following year.

In addition to the receptions title, Sharpe's efforts in the 1992 season earned him the NFL's statistical championship for receiving yards (1,461) and receiving touchdowns (13).

In 1994 he, again, led the NFL in receiving touchdowns with 18.

At the time of his retirement, Sharpe held seven Packers' regular-season receiving records and was tied for two additional. Sharpe also owned three Green Bay postseason records, including most points in a game (18) against Detroit in 1993.

A three-time first-team All-Pro and five-time Pro Bowl selection, Sharpe was honored as a member of the NFL's All-Decade Team of the 1990s.

84 STERLING SHARPE

Wide Receiver

South Carolina 7th year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 207 Born: 4/6/65 Acq: D1-88

PRO: Played through two significant injuries in 1993 to have his finest season yet in what is quickly becoming a Hall of Fame career...Though he historically has held a decided personal disdain for the spotlight, it is becoming more and more difficult to avoid in light of his remarkable achievements on the field...Has established a new NFL single-season record for receptions two seasons running...Combines unheard of strength for a wide receiver with good quickness to realize success as one of the league's best runners after the catch...Highly intelligent and charismatic, amazingly has been able to continue to get open even when the opponent knows where the ball is going...Bothered in 1993 by Achilles and turf toe injuries which greatly restricted his practice time and worsened as the season progressed, he always answered the bell on Sunday — even when excruciating pain was the price to pay...Extent of injury to his left big toe was so great that corrective surgery was required following the season...Had surgical procedure to reconstruct the sesamoid complex (undersurface of the big toe joint) and for the removal of bone spurs performed by Dr. Robert B. Anderson, and assisted by Packer team physician Dr. Pat McKenzie, at the Carolinas Medical Center in Charlotte on March 23, 1994...“He had an outstanding year, especially considering the fact that he never practiced from about mid-season on,” states Sherman Lewis, the Packers’ offensive coordinator. “I think he would have had an even greater year if he could have practiced. There were some throws that he couldn’t get to (which he normally would have been able to), some catches that he didn’t run after the catch like he normally does, because of the toe.”...Very adept at taking a short pass for an additional 10-20 yards, an attribute aided by his unusually high degree of fearlessness in going across the middle...Nearly impossible to hold up at the line of scrimmage due to his superior strength...“What makes him unique is his quickness and strength,” says Lewis, who previously tutored both Jerry Rice and John Taylor while receivers coach for the 49ers. “He has that rare combination of great strength, yet he has great agility and quickness. He’s a great runner after the catch, I think that’s what separates him from the other guys. There’s a lot of guys that probably catch the ball as well as he does, but very few people can run with it like he does after he gets it. If you play him man-to-man, he’s very strong and physical. He can out-physical one-on-one coverage. If you play him zone, he’s smart and he knows how to find the open area, he knows how to sit down, how to get open. He’s just a gifted athlete.”...Unquestionably has had two of the finest seasons by a wide receiver in NFL history the last two years...Broke the league’s single-season record for receptions in 1993 with 112, surpassing his own mark of 108 set but one year earlier — and giving him an amazing 220 catches over the 1992-93 seasons...Is the only player in NFL history with two 100-reception seasons to his credit, let alone two such years consecutively...Became the first player to lead the league in receiving two straight years since the Chargers’ Kellen Winslow did so over the 1980-81 seasons...Also is the only active player — and but the eighth overall — to have led the NFL in receiving three times in his career (he also did so in 1989); only Packer legend Don Hutson (8) and Lionel Taylor (5) have paced the league on more occasions than he...In only six NFL seasons, already has 501 career receptions for 7,015 yards and 47 touchdowns...On the verge of becoming the Packers’ all-time leading receiver, he needs only 30 catches to pass James Lofton’s 530 career receptions with Green Bay...At his current rate of 5.2 receptions per contest (501 in 96 career games), should vault ahead of Lofton by the Packers’ sixth game of the ‘94 campaign, Oct. 9 vs. the L.A. Rams...Now owns the top three single-season reception totals in club

Rams (Sept. 5)...One week later, became only fourth receiver in team history to reach 400-reception plateau, catching 7 vs. Eagles...Had first of three 10-catch performances in '93 vs. Denver on Oct. 10, a game which pitted him against his younger brother, Shannon, a Pro Bowl tight end for the Broncos...Earned NFC Player of the Week honors by catching 10 passes for 147 yards and a career-high 4 touchdowns at Tampa Bay (Oct. 24)...His 4 receiving scores tied a 48-year-old club record, initially set by Hutson vs. Detroit on Oct. 7, 1945, at Milwaukee...Also lined up at quarterback vs. Bucs in Mike Holmgren's unique 'Star Wars' formation, completing his first pass in the NFL (a one-yard throw to Robert Brooks) and also rushing once for five yards...Caught 21-yard touchdown pass from Brett Favre, among his 7 receptions for 75 yards, for decisive score in 17-3 victory over Bears on Halloween...Turned in gutsy performance at New Orleans (Nov. 14)...Already plagued by turf toe entering Saints contest, suffered a contusion to the eye and nose — causing a bloody nose and blurred vision — but still caught a 54-yard 'Hail Mary' pass from Favre with 52 seconds remaining to set up Chris Jacke's game-winning, 36-yard field goal in 19-17 triumph...Also passed Dowler (448) vs. New Orleans to take over third place on team's all-time receiving list...Brought Packers to victory again two weeks later in Tampa Bay rematch, catching a 2-yard TD pass from Favre with 1:16 left to give Green Bay 13-10 win over troublesome Bucs...Made 10 receptions for 114 yards and 1 touchdown at Chicago (Dec. 5)...Tied Hutson (488 receptions in 117 games) for second on Packers' career receiving list by catching 6 passes for 106 yards and 1 TD in loss to Vikings on Dec. 19 (Sharpe's 94th career game)...Surpassed Hutson with his first reception one week later against the L.A. Raiders, he caught 7 total passes for 119 yards and 1 score — a 23-yarder from Favre — in 28-0 romp over the Silver and Black...Made his 109th catch of the year Jan. 2 at Detroit to break his own NFL single-season record for receptions, the record-breaker coming on a 7-yard slant pattern from Favre with just under two minutes remaining in second quarter...That day also became just the 36th player in league history (12th active) to reach 500 career receptions — and the second-fastest to do so...Took his game to new level in the post-season...Established a new team record (and tied the NFL mark) by catching 3 touchdown passes in 28-24 victory over Detroit (Jan. 8) at the Pontiac (Mich.) Silverdome in a wild card playoff contest, the final, game-winning score coming in dramatic fashion, a 40-yarder from Favre in the right corner of the end zone with 55 seconds remaining after he had managed to slip behind all Lion defenders...Set another club standard with his second consecutive 100-yard game in the playoffs, catching 6 balls for 128 yards and 1 touchdown in 27-17 loss to eventual Super Bowl champion Cowboys...Averaged an impressive 20.8 yards per reception (11-229-4 TDs) in the post-season...1992: Broke NFL record for most receptions in one season (108) for initial time, eclipsing previous standard of 106, set by Art Monk in '84...In the process, also became just the sixth player in league history to catch 100-or-more passes in a season...Shattered his own Packer single-season mark

SELECTION PROCESS | HALL OF FAMER BIOGRAPHIES

SELECTION PROCESS

Charged with the vital task of continuing to be certain that new enshrinees are the finest the game has produced is the Pro Football Hall of Fame's 50-person Selection Committee.

The Committee consists of one media representative from each pro football city with two from New York and Los Angeles, inasmuch as those cities have two teams in the National Football League. A 33rd member is a representative of the Pro Football Writers of America and there are 17 at-large delegates.

The Selection Committee meets annually to elect new members. There is no set number for any class of enshrinees, but the Committee's current ground rules do stipulate that between four and eight new members will be selected each year. The 1973 and 1976 classes of three were the smallest named.

Every candidate is carefully scrutinized and must receive at least 80% approval of the Committee at the annual meeting before he can be elected. A scale of negative votes for elimination that will vary depending on the number of Selectors in attendance is used.

When the Selectors met in January to name the Class of 2025, they had before them a roster of 20 final candidates, along with detailed biographies on each. To assure that older players will be considered along with the more recently retired, the Seniors Committee – made up of members of the overall Selection Committee – named three nominees from the pre-1999 era to be included on the final list.

A bylaws change to the selection process was approved by the Pro Football Hall of Fame's Board of Directors in August 2014 by which a Contributor – defined as an individual who has "made outstanding contributions to professional football in capacities other than playing or coaching" – automatically will be included among the annual list of Finalists for election.

In 2022, the Board of Directors agreed to combine Coaches and Contributors into one category.

For the Classes of 2023-24, there was one Coach/Contributor Finalist and three Senior Finalists.

Beginning with the Class of 2025, the Finalists pool included three Senior players, one Coach and one Contributor.

The other Finalists are the survivors from a preliminary list of Modern-Era candidates that the Committee will have screened. That original list will have been in part provided by the fans themselves.

Any fan may nominate any qualified person who has been connected with pro football in any capacity simply by writing to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The only restriction is that a player must have last played at least five seasons before he can be considered. For example, a candidate for the Class of 2026 class must have concluded his career no later than the 2020 season.

Coaches must be retired from pro football for at least one full season to be considered. There is no mandatory retirement period for a Contributor. Every nomination received will be processed and forwarded to the Selection Committee.

It is important to emphasize that the Hall of Fame itself has no say as to who is or is not elected to membership. The functions of the staff are to process the nominations as they arrive and to coordinate all reduction voting and committee meetings, including the annual meeting.

FAQ ABOUT THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME'S SELECTION PROCESS

Does the Hall of Fame Nominate individuals?

The Hall of Fame receives nominations but does not make them. Any person, including the 50 elite members of the Selection Committee may place in nomination any eligible players, coaches or contributors.

What Happens After Someone is Nominated as a Modern-Era Nominee?

A nomination is NOT a vote for election. The Hall of Fame's selection process includes multiple steps in which the nominees are scrutinized. The Hall facilitates the procedure of three successive reviews of increasing scrutiny with its 50 selectors. The first is a vote to reduce the long list of Modern-Era nominees (typically around 120) to 25 Semifinalists, followed by a later vote to reduce to 15 Finalists. At the annual Selection Meeting, the Finalists are scrutinized even further by the Selectors, who after a thorough discussion of each nominee reduce the list from 15 to 10 and then 10 to 7. At that point, the committee votes for five of the seven Finalists. A minimum positive vote of 80% is necessary for election.

Who Selects New Hall of Fame Members?

The Pro Football Hall of Fame's 50-person Selection Committee is charged with the vital task of continuing to be sure that new enshrinees are the finest the game has produced.

The Committee consists of one media representative from each pro football city with two from New York and Los Angeles, inasmuch as those cities have two teams in the National Football League. There are 17 at-large selectors, all of whom are also active members of the media. That group includes one representative of the Pro Football Writers of America and four members of the Hall of Fame.

The Selection Committee meets annually to elect new members to the Hall of Fame. There is no set number of new enshrinees, but the Committee's current ground rules do stipulate that between four and eight new members will be selected each year. Every candidate is carefully scrutinized and must receive at least 80% approval of the Committee at the annual meeting before he can be elected.

How Are New Enshrinees Selected?

Any fan may nominate any player, coach or contributor who has been connected with pro football simply by writing to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The only restrictions are that a player must have been retired at least five years before he can be considered, and coaches must be retired for one full season from pro football. There is no mandatory retirement period for contributors before they may be considered. Every nomination of an eligible candidate received will be processed and forwarded to the Hall of Fame's Selection Committee.

Each year, the Selection Committee will be polled three times before the final list of Modern-Era preliminary nominees is determined. The initial preliminary list of nominations is compiled and sent to the Hall of Fame's Selection Committee by June 1. The list is provided so that the Selectors can study the nominees and then request the addition of any other candidates that may have been overlooked. Included on this list are first-time eligible candidates who have strong enough credentials to give them even a remote chance of eventual Hall of Fame election. Also included are all other eligible candidates nominated by any person. Additionally, those Modern-Era nominees from the previous year's final preliminary list who received at least four votes in the balloting to determine the Modern-Era Finalists are automatically included on this preliminary list.

The second preliminary list is sent to the Selectors during the month of July and includes all the nominees named on the initial list plus any additional nominations received from any source since the first list was compiled.

The third preliminary list of eligible candidates is sent to the Selection Committee during the month of September for the purpose of the selection of the Modern-Era Semifinalists for election. From the third preliminary list, the Selection Committee is asked to vote for 25 Modern-Era Nominees who become Semifinalists for election.

The final preliminary list of 25 Modern-Era nominees plus all ties, if any, for the 25th position shall be distributed to the Selection Committee during the month of November for the purpose of the selection of 15 Modern-Era Nominees. The 16th through 20th Finalists come from the recommended candidates of the Seniors Committee, Coach Committee and Contributor Committee.

In advance of the Hall of Fame Selection Meeting, the Selectors are provided detailed biographies on each Finalist. At the annual meeting, each Finalist is thoroughly discussed by the committee before a series of reduction votes are taken. First, the Seniors and Coach/Contributor candidates are discussed and voted on for election. They must receive the same 80% affirmative vote as the Modern-Era candidates. Next, there is a vote that reduces the Modern-Era Finalists list from 15 to 10. Following that, a vote is taken to reduce the list from 10 to five names. The five remaining candidates for Hall of Fame election are then voted on individually (yes or no) for membership.

In order to be elected, a Finalist must receive a minimum of 80% of the vote. All ballots are collected and counted by the firm EY. No vote totals are announced – only the winners of the various reduction ballots are revealed to the Selectors and the Hall's representatives.

How Are Seniors and Coach/Contributor Candidates Chosen?

To assure that older players, whose active careers have been completed at least 25 years, as well as those individuals who contributed to the game in ways other than playing and coaching will be considered along with the Modern-Era players and coaches, a Seniors Committee and a Coach/Contributor Committee, have been established. Both of these committees are made up of 12 members of the overall Selection Committee.

Like the full Committee, the members of the Seniors Committee and the Coach/Contributor Committee are provided a preliminary list of eligible nominees. The list, which is compiled and mailed to the Selectors, includes carry-over nominations from the previous year, first-time eligible candidates and nominations from any outside source.

By way of a electronic balloting, the Seniors Committee and Coach/Contributor Committee members reduce their respective lists to 25 Semifinalists. In second reduction votes, the committees will reduce the Semifinalists to 12. Meetings to select up to three (3) Seniors and one (1) Coach/Contributor for possible election to the Hall of Fame are held in late fall.

In advance of both meetings, each Selector is provided with detailed biographical information on the candidates.

Seniors Committee members are assisted during their annual meeting by consultants, chosen by the Hall's president, who were contemporaries of the majority of the nominees. The consultants offer only their opinions and are not entitled to vote. After each candidate is discussed thoroughly, the consultants are excused from the meeting. Additional discussion is conducted followed by a series of reduction votes that results in the naming of the Seniors nominees.

Coach/Contributor Committee members are also assisted during their annual meeting by consultants and follow the same guidelines as described above for the Seniors Committee consultants.

Although the Seniors and Coach/Contributor Nominees will be presented to the full Selection Committee as Finalists, their election to the Hall of Fame is not automatic. Each must receive the same minimum 80% of the vote as a Modern-Era candidate to be elected.

Is a New Hall of Fame Member Enshrined as a Member of a Team?

Obviously, teams take great pride in the accomplishments of individuals who have been a part of their organization. Often individual teams and even the Hall of Fame will list enshrinees according to the team or teams on which they spent a significant period of time. An enshrinee, however, is not asked to "declare," nor does the Hall of Fame "choose" a team under which a new member is enshrined. When elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, an individual is recognized for accomplishments as a player, coach or contributor.

ELIGIBILITY CHART

A player must not have played for five full seasons before becoming eligible for election to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The chart below can be used as a quick reference to determine when a player or coach will be, was, or is first eligible for the Hall of Fame. For instance, 2014 enshrinee Andre Reed last played in 2000. Therefore, he was first eligible for the Class of 2006. Counting upward from 2006, one can determine that he was elected in his ninth year of eligibility.

ANDRE REED, the Buffalo Bills' franchise record-holder for career receptions and career receiving yards, was enshrined into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2014.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAMERS BY TEAM

NOTE: In this listing – a Hall of Famer is named under all clubs on which he made his primary contribution to professional football – (i.e. – Chuck Noll is listed under Pittsburgh as a coach – but not under Cleveland as a player). Hall of Famers who made the major part of their primary contribution for any one club are listed in CAPS. In cases where a player contributed about equally and/or in a major way to two or more clubs – he is listed in CAPS under both clubs (ie. Curley Culp is listed with both the Chiefs and the Titans (Oilers) as his primary teams). Hall of Famers who spent only a minor portion of their career with any club are listed under that club in lower case. (The numbers inside of the parentheses following the team's name indicates the number of primary Hall of Famers followed by the number of Hall of Famers who spent a minor portion of their career with the team).
Year – Superscript next to Hall of Famer's name is the year of his enshrinement.

ELECTION BY YEAR OF ELIGIBILITY & YEAR AS FINALIST

(Since 1970) * Seniors Candidate # Contributor Candidate
^ Coaches Candidate

– In those cases when a player's career ended prior to 1963, the year of eligibility is based on the amount of years since the Hall opened in 1963 rather than the years from when the player last played.

– Prior to 1970, the procedure of naming 15 Finalists was not defined. In 2007, bylaws changed to include 17 Finalists comprised of 15 Modern-Era nominees and two Senior Candidates. A Contributor category was added for the 2015 Selection Process bringing the total number of Finalists to 18. A coaches candidate was added for the Centennial Class of 2020.

JUNIOR SEAU

Ninety three (93) members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame were elected in their first-year of eligibility. They include: Troy Aikman, Larry Allen, Marcus Allen, Lance Alworth, Champ Bailey, *Chuck Bednarik, Raymond Berry, George Blanda, Mel Blount, Terry Bradshaw, Derrick Brooks, Jim Brown, Willie Brown, Dick Butkus, Earl Campbell, Eric Dickerson, Tony Dorsett, John Elway, Marshall Faulk, Brett Favre, Dan Fouts, Tony Gonzalez, Darrell Green, Joe Greene, Forrest Gregg, Jack Ham, John Hannah, Franco Harris, Ken Houston, Calvin Johnson, David (Deacon) Jones, Walter Jones, Jim Kelly, Jack Lambert, Tom Landry, Jim Langer, Steve Largent, *Bobby Layne, Ray Lewis, Bob Lilly, Vince Lombardi, Ronnie Lott, Peyton Manning, Gino Marchetti, Dan Marino, Ollie Matson, Bruce Matthews, Hugh McElhenny, Joe Montana, Warren Moon, Randy Moss, Anthony Muñoz, Ray Nitschke, Chuck Noll, Jonathan Ogden, Merlin Olsen, Jim Otto, Jim Parker, Walter Payton, Julius Peppers, Troy Polamalu, Ed Reed, Darrelle Revis, Jerry Rice, Barry Sanders, Deion Sanders, Warren Sapp, Gale Sayers, Junior Seau, Don Shula, O.J. Simpson, Mike Singletary, Jackie Slater, Bruce Smith, Emmitt Smith, Bart Starr, Roger Staubach, Jan Stenerud, Jason Taylor, Lawrence Taylor, Joe Thomas, LaDainian Tomlinson, *Emlen Tunnell, Johnny Unitas, Gene Upshaw, Brian Urlacher, Paul Warfield, Randy White, Reggie White, Larry Wilson, Charles Woodson, Rod Woodson and Steve Young.

* Until the 1968 selection meeting, a three-year waiting rule was in effect. That year, Chuck Bednarik and Bobby Layne were elected after only four years' retirement and Emlen Tunnell after five years of inactivity. However, technically speaking, none was elected immediately after the conclusion of the mandatory retirement time limit that was in effect at the time.

FINALISTS BY YEAR

In 2007, the Hall of Fame’s bylaws were changed to stipulate 17 Finalists, which would include 15 Modern-Era Players and two Senior candidates. NOTE: In some cases, there were 16 Finalists due to a tie in the voting. In 1975, there were only 14 Finalists. Contributor Finalists were added with the class of 2015. Selection of Old-timers/Seniors candidates began in 1972. No nominee was picked in 1975. Two Senior nominees were selected starting in 2004.

For the Class of 2021 and 2022, bylaws allowed for one Senior, one Contributor and one Coach Finalist. Another bylaw change effective with the Class of 2023 allowed for up to three Seniors and one from a combined Coach/Contributor category per enshrinement class. In 2025, Coach and Contributor were split again, with three Seniors retained. In the Modern-Era Players category, reduction voting went from 15 to 10 to 7, with up to 5 electable.

In 2020, the Hall of Fame elected a special Centennial Class of 20 members. The Centennial Class included 10 Seniors, three Contributors and two Coaches and were voted on from a list of 38 Finalists.

Reduction votes during annual selection meeting: The selection process includes a cutdown of the 15 Modern-Era Player Finalists during the annual selection meeting separate from the Senior or Coach/Contributor categories. The Selection Committee pared the list from 15 to 10; then 10 to 5. At that point, a yes or no vote is tabulated of the final five Finalists. An individual is elected to the Hall of Fame if he receives at least 80% affirmative vote. Included with this list are the reduction votes that took place under the rules in place that year.

The Centennial Class of 2020 was voted upon during two separate meetings. A special Blue-Ribbon Panel voted on the Seniors, Contributors and Coaches. There were 20 Senior Finalists. A reduction vote pared the list to 15 and a second vote was utilized to determine the final 10 Seniors elected to the Hall of Fame. The Panel voted on 10 Contributor Finalists, with the top three vote-getters earning election. Finally, eight Coach candidates were voted with the top two vote-getters earning election. The Hall’s regular selection meeting determined the five Modern-Era Players for election. The Selection Committee first pared the list from 15 to 10; then 10 to the final 5.

Superscript number indicates the number of times as a Finalist. No superscript number indicates a person’s first time as a Finalist.

25 MODERN-ERA SEMIFINALISTS

In 2004, the procedure of reducing the list of Modern-Era nominees to 25 Semifinalists was integrated into the selection process. From the list, 13 of the Semifinalists were named Finalists along with two Senior nominees. Beginning in 2007, the list was reduced to 17 Finalists that included 15 of the Semifinalists and two Senior nominees.

* indicates that the Semifinalist became a Finalist. CAPS INDICATE THOSE ELECTED TO THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME. (Number in parentheses is the initial number of nominees from which the Semifinalists were selected). ^In 2008, 2011, 2012, 2015, 2017 and 2022 due to a tie, there were 26 Semifinalists; in 2013 and 2018 there were 27 Semifinalists; and in 2023 there were 28 Semifinalists.

HALL OF FAME GAME

TOM BENSON HALL OF FAME STADIUM

In the Beginning The original stadium was built from 1937-1939 at an estimated cost of $500,000. The federal government in the form of labor force, the WPA, paid for $400,000 while a school board bond issue paid for the materials. The stadium originally seated 15,000 and was the largest high school stadium in the country at that time. Formerly known as Fawcett Stadium after John A. Fawcett, a community leader, member of the Canton City school board and a gifted athlete, the stadium was renamed Tom Benson Hall of Fame Stadium in 2014.

The Future A key component of the Hall of Fame Village project is Tom Benson Hall of Fame Stadium. The venue is a world-class sports and entertainment sports complex that includes a permanent stage built into the stands at the 50-yard line. The stadium is designed by HKS, a world-renowned architectural firm that previously developed AT&T Stadium for the Dallas Cowboys and U.S. Bank Stadium for the Minnesota Vikings.

“Although the scale and capacity of this venue is not as large as some of our more recent football stadiums, the quality of the fan experience and overall intimacy within the venue will be unmatched in sports.” – Mark Williams, HKS

Forbes included Tom Benson Hall of Fame Stadium among its “13 Game-Changing NFL Stadiums.”

Enshrinement The Pro Football Hall of Fame's Enshrinement is one of the great events in sports. In 2002, the annual Enshrinement was moved from the Hall's front steps back to the stadium, where it had been held from 1963 to 1965.

Hall of Fame Game The Hall of Fame Game series began in 1962, one year before the museum opened. A National Football League preseason game has been played in Canton each year except four since that inaugural game. No game was played in 1966 as the preseason schedule was not set in time to include Canton for a neutral site game. The game was canceled in 2011 due to a lockout, in 2016 due to respect for player safety based on the condition of the field and in 2020 amid the COVID pandemic.

Beginning in 1971, following the AFL-NFL merger, an AFC vs. NFC format was adopted for the Hall of Fame series. Preset schedules were created that called for each team to make a visit to Canton over 14- and 15-year periods through 1994. In 1995, the Hall of Fame Game showcased the debut of the league's newest expansion teams: the Carolina Panthers and Jacksonville Jaguars. Since that time, the teams for the Hall of Fame Game normally include teams with significant milestones (such as the return of the Cleveland Browns in 1999 and the Houston Texans inaugural game in 2002) or a connection to the Hall's class of enshrinees.

The inaugural game (1962) and those from 1967 through 1997 were played on Saturday afternoons. The Hall of Fame games were played on Sunday afternoons from 1963 to 1965. In 1998, the Hall of Fame Game was switched to primetime with kickoff moved to Saturday evening. One year later, the game moved to Monday night. From 2006 to 2016, the Hall of Fame Game was played on Sunday night. In 2017, the game was switched to Thursday night.

The Hall of Fame Game was televised nationally by ABC from 1971-2005. In 2006, NBC broadcast the game followed by the NFL Network in 2007. The game returned to NBC in 2008 and stayed through 2019, except in 2012, when it aired on NFL Network. FOX broadcast the 2021 game. In 2022 and 2023, the Hall of Fame Game returned to NBC. ESPN/ABC broadcast the game in 2024. NBC returns in 2025.

HALL OF FAME GAME FACTS

The Cincinnati Bengals, who beat the Los Angeles Rams in 1988, became the first team to play in the Hall of Fame Game and advance to the Super Bowl in the same season. The 2001 St. Louis Rams are the only other team to play in Canton to start a run to the Super Bowl.

Teams that have won or tied the Hall of Fame Game have qualified for the playoffs that same season 26 times with the most recent team being the Cleveland Browns in 2023. Included in the number are 14 teams that claimed division titles after leaving Canton without a loss. During one particular 14-year stretch from 1980-1993, all but two of the teams that won or tied the Hall of Fame Game advanced to the postseason that year.

The Dallas Cowboys and Pittsburgh Steelers are tied for the most appearances in the Hall of Fame Game, with seven each. The Washington Commanders and Chicago Bears have the most wins, earning victories in five trips to Canton.

Hall of Famers Chris Hanburger (1965), John Hannah (1973), Marvin Harrison (1996) and Jack Youngblood (1971) made their NFL debuts in the Hall of Fame Game.

HALL OF FAMERS WHO'VE PARTICIPATED IN THE HALL OF FAME GAME

Since its inception in 1962, nearly 200 members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame either have played or coached in a Hall of Fame Game.

Two members of the Class of 2025 participated in the game as a player.

The record for the most Hall of Fame Game appearances by a Hall of Fame member is three, shared by Charlie Joiner and Terrell Owens.
