JAMA 2024 Year in Review and What's Ahead

Sajedah Al-Khzaleh (she/her/hers)
COMMUNICATIONS SPECIALIST II

1 min read

In this editorial, JAMA and the JAMA Network Editor in Chief Kirsten Bibbins-Domingo, PhD, MD, MAS; Executive Managing Editor and Vice President, Editorial Operations Annette Flanagin, RN, MA; Executive Editor and Vice President Gregory Curfman, MD; Vice President, Planning and Operations Hannah Park, and JAMA Managing Editor Stacy Christiansen, MA, provide a report on key metrics for JAMA in 2024 and look ahead to what's next. You can read the editorial here.

JAMA continues its commitment to publishing science, education, and perspectives that shape the practice of medicine and public health. In this report, Bibbins-Domingo, Flanagin, Curfman, Park, and Christiansen highlight foundational efforts in 2024 that will support the journal's continued success in 2025. These include a shift to publishing all content online first, the expansion of global science research, and the launch of JAMA+ AI.