

Content Strategy Brainstorming

Rachel Cheyfitz August 13 2024

Content Strategy Brainstorming Agenda

Objectives

Overview of targets & objectives

Components

Components of content marketing

Components at Coro

Current state of affairs, associated challenges & some thoughts

Brainstorm

What now?

Brand

Amplify brand presence and generate awareness.

Leads

Increase qualified leads via both SEO, organic traffic and deeper relationships with the audience

Education

Inform audiences, build a community around the brand and deepen relationships with our audience.

Trust

Educate the audience about our products, services, & industry and demonstrate leadership to acquire audience trust

SEO

Support increased demand generation, increased brand visibility and the PLG motion

Growth

Move prospects and customers through the different stages of the buyer's journey.

How to Use Content to Reach Our Goals

Revenue increase, customer retention & growth, partner support and PLG

Distro & Segmentation

Amplify brand presence and generate awareness.

Types

Increase qualified leads via both SEO, organic traffic and deeper relationships with the audience

Measurement

Establish benchmarks and track metrics

Management

Centralized team task management, tools, content strategy, plans and calendar, etc.

Infra

Team structure, processes, etc., internal knowledge and documentation,

Growth

Move prospects and customers through the different stages of the buyer's journey.

Components for Consideration

Current state of collaborative affairs

Our Marketing Teams today

Open issues

Timeline alignment

When two Mktng teams need to coordinate timing in order to complete a task, and make a time commitment in advance.

Taking the time

Even when speed is important.

Language style, tone & voice

Short vs long form content, product term decisions, use of enough vs too many details, etc.

Visibility

Into what other teams and peers are working on.

Two different goals - two different ownerships?

Working style guide vs Brand guide

Style guide ownership?

Style vs Brand and everything in between.

Who should be included?

When to include which professionals from which of our teams?

How does demand gen work with content?

Emails, paid advertising, etc.

Teams, Roles, Responsibilities, oh my!

How and where can we improve in order to collaborate on content better?

Teams

- Corporate
- Demand gen
- Brand

Corporate Team Structure

- Content team social, writers, events and webinars
- Who should lead this team?
 - Strong candidate in pipeline
 - Possibility to promote Alanna
 - Consider hiring internal/external comms expert

Processes

- Map out existing processes (WIP)
- Centralized content calendar (WIP)
- Document webinar playbook

More ideas

- Writers' Guild (on hold)
- Consider having Alanna lead going forward
- Have this group possibly function as a campaign "taskforce" to ensure content is consistently leveraged for campaigns

Management & Measurement

Tools

- SEO keyword tools?
- Google analytics?
- Sprout Social (or Sprinklr, etc.)
- Ignition (?)

Measurement

- A/B testing beyond advertisements and short copy
 - Emails: send in cadence with different messaging each time
 - For PDF/brochures etc. 2
 separate campaigns
 - Social media hashtag success?
 - Code injection for multi variant testing - page loads with one or the other messaging options
 - Sequencing via Pardot
- Buyer/user journey mapping
- Persona surveys
- Content performance: via Pardot Content

Content types

Other content ideas? What kind should we prioritize and why? What resources are available and what do we need still?

By Coro

- Email
- Internal and external newsletters
- Case study
- Blog post
- Reports

- Webinars
- Videos
- Brochures
- White papers
- Forbes Council
- Podcasts

- Glossary
- Trainings
- Lectures & shows
- In-app communications
- Employee-generated content
- Talks
- Product docs

3rd Party & UGC

- Analyst reports
- Influencers
- Industry experts

- News reports/incidents
- G2 content
- Sponsored reports + content

Segmentation

What's the strategy

- Prospects
- Nurturing opportunities
- General target audience
- Current users & customers
- Partners
- Partners' existing users and customers
- Different personas within these groups

Questions

- Voice differentiation
- Social media channels
- Is there friction when a company employs different voices for seemingly opposing audiences?
- How do we nurture partners without alienating them simultaneously?
- How do we nurture the direct market without boring them about partner content?
- How about partnering with experts who work at businesses that "complement" ours (ideas?)

Distribution channels

Can you think of any other channels? Which should we prioritize and why?

What about other distribution factors?

By Coro

- Email
- Website
- Coro Console
- Community by Coro
- Webinars
- Mindmatrix

Third party

- Social media
- Forums
- Chat rooms/channels
- Newspapers/magazines
- Partner websites
- Paid-for and free media sites
- Champions
- Marketplaces

Methods

- Interactivity
- Personalization
- PDFs and hosting content
- PDF Monkey

Additional considerations

- Source Support tickets for insights into FAQ => content focusing on the right topics
- Integrous data from the Sales process for ICP/persona details ongoing

Content Brainstorming

Content themes, format, channels and thought leadership

- Long-term nurturing
- Routine cadence to existing customers by persona
- Written thought leadership
- Speaking thought leadership
- Different kinds of sponsorships?
- Forbes Council ideas for a new series?
- End-to-end campaigns (cybersecurity awareness month for example)

- Rinse & repeat/Measurement
 - Start by measuring one piece of content
 - Hockeystack tracks the visitor journey
- Picking top priorities
 - Ironing out processes
 - Finishing high-level corporate strategy: ICP, IPP, mission, vision
 - Persona research

What types of content could drive user engagement % product adoption at different stages of the funnel?

