- I was responsible for all necessary startup activities of the show including, but not limited to, equipment purchase, equipment set up, establishing the show on its subscription-based distribution network, Patreon, and overall consultation.
- Continue to operate the show's postproduction needs including editing the audio tracks into the final mixdown and maintaining the show's Patreon channel.
- Assist the sales team in establishing ad revenue and sponsorships for both the podcast and studio TV show. Maintain strong, professional relationships with our clients and ensure health and longevity of our contracts and agreements

August 2023 – April 2024: The TV Show podcast

Producer I remote

Podcast discussing the new age of television (streaming, digital media, etc) and film

- Postproduction audio editing and uploading to the hosting platform/media directories. Create full length video renditions of episodes and upload them to YouTube. Create short video clips to post to social media accounts and other platforms.
- Responsible for show outreach. This includes creation and management of the show's social media accounts and outreach to potential partnerships. Utilize social media tactics and SEO strategies to get more traffic and attention to the show and its content.
- Assist in the sales operations for the show, establishing connections and relationships with advertisers and sponsors for the show's content.

February 2023 – January 2024: The Continental Sports Podcast

Founder/Director I remote

The Continental Sports Podcast brings on local talent from across the country to give local perspective on national storylines happening in sports.

- Created and continue to operate all elements of the show including, but not limited to, establishing the hosts, show structure/rundowns, segments, social media accounts, website, and all marketing/outreach efforts. Utilize social media tactics and SEO strategies to gain traffic and attention to the show and its content.
- Produce all aspects of the show including but not limited to, guest booking, post-production audio editing, post-production video editing, creating graphics, creating show notes, and uploading episodes to media directories.

September 2023 – present: Elemeno Production

Production Assistant I Philadelphia, PA

Elemeno Productions is a full-service production company providing pre-production, production and post production services

- Provide assistance in filmings conducted by Elemeno Productions. I assisted in the set up and maintenance of the set as well as assisted in equipment operations. I ensured a stable filming environment and worked alongside the staff to complete tasks that ensured the highest quality production possible.
