EDITORIAL ASSISTANT

December 2014 – September 2016

Wrote features, health articles, interviews and advertising copy for Good Housekeeping, the UK's best-selling women's monthly magazine.

- Pitched original story ideas at planning meetings.
- Interviewed celebrities, health experts, and women with inspiring stories.
- Researched and wrote an events page based around a celebrity interview I arranged and conducted.
- Compiled and edited the readers' letters page, liaising with the social media team to get suitable answers from Twitter and Facebook followers.
- Compiled and edited the copy and collected images for a page of offers specifically for subscribers.
- Wrote copy for sponsored content.
- Compiled research and reference materials.
- Proofread, fact-checked and edited copy in the sub-editing department.

Quill Content | London, UK
EDITORIAL MANAGER
September 2013 – November 2014

Wrote freelance blog posts for this content marketing start-up before being hired as an in-house editorial manager, liaising directly with clients in a range of industries, and editing copy produced by a network of writers.

- Wrote and edited blog posts, newsletters, product descriptions, infographics, scripts and website copy.
- Covered topics including insurance, fashion, news, travel, car vinyl wrapping, and medical equipment.
- Oversaw the redesign of a prestigious loss assessor's website, collaborating with the American-based developer and designer on the UX and UI design, communicating the client's feedback, and writing all the copy to correspond to SEO demands.
- Corresponded with a network of writers, assigning work, fact-checking and editing it, and giving constructive feedback.
- Collaborated with graphic designers and photographers.
- Clients included 3M, Butterfly Twists, Long Tall Sally, Littlewoods, Very, Radisson Hotel Group, AXA, STA Travel.
