

- Sept 9: summer rewind or fall fest gallery
- Sept 16: football gallery
- Sept 23: pepe podcast

Submitted Oct. 7 - rejected sustained coverage (Sustained coverage - Oops! Looks like stories were categorized as both news and video. Looking at stories that are only categorized as news there is not a story the week of Sept. 23. Sustained coverage - The content submitted in the video category is the same as content submitted for news and video. The purpose of this portion of the badge is that the staff is writing weekly stories unique to the category so that fresh content is being placed on the website.)

7. FOOTAGE/CONTENT: Each video should contain copyright music - music must be credited somewhere in the video or story.

8. AUDIO/SOUND: The sound/voice quality on each video is clear and not lost in background noise or music.

9. EDITING: Length is appropriate for telling a story (at least one minute, but no more than five minutes in length).

10. EDITING: Individual shots/clips are smoothly edited together to move the story forward.

11. EDITING: Technical quality of lighting doesn't detract from the story.

12. EDITING: All b-roll in the piece is video shot by the staff (no stock footage or still images).

13. Videos are embedded as a post on the site. View this guide.

Explanation for rejection: Videos #2, -For this badge we are looking for videos that tell a stand alone story. Unfortunately Q and A videos, while enjoyable for your viewers, do not meet that guideline. Video #3: For this badge we are looking for videos between 1 and 5 minutes. This video also does not appear to meet several of the other listed guidelines for videos on this badge. Check the videos on BestofSNO.com for examples of the style we are looking for.

Submitted Nov. 12 (Rejected) - want podcasts approved. Videos will still not be approved but added 3 new ones anyway to see. Podcasts were approved.

In the footer, we updated the color to reflect our new navy, and moved the search button and social media icons around to look less cluttered. We also updated the color of the About/Staff/Print Edition bar.

Accepted first try!

Stories
Provide the link(s) to the stories that meet the above criteria, written by the student staff.

Story #1: Diego Salazar - Termites

Story #2: K.J. Walsh - Termites

Story #3: American Photo - Termites

Story #4: American High Photo - Termites

Story #5: Whelan - Termites

Story #6: Long - Termites

Explanation for rejection - Story #1: Utilize at least one additional element (inline photo, pull quote, etc.) to enhance your story and break up the text. Story #2: If possible, add a credit to the infographic embedded in this story. Story #4: Make sure to add a credit to the featured image of this story. Also, add a credit for that Genially embed if possible. Story #5: Oops! To meet the badge requirements, the infobox needs to have at least five segments. Story #6: A couple things to fix on this one. First, it looks like there is a large space at the end of the final segment. I wonder if you could edit and eliminate that. Also, Google Maps need attribution. Be sure to look up the specific attribution requirements and add that to the map you use here.

Explanation for rejection: Videos #1-2: While newscast videos like this are great for your school audience, they are not exactly what we are looking for for this badge. Videos for this badge should include a combination of interviews and b-roll footage that develops a single storyline. In addition, if

			using any music in a video, make sure to add a credit for it. This can be added either to the video itself or to the Story Body field. Video #3: Oops! It looks like the footage for this video is only the interview subjects. Videos for this badge should include a combination of interview footage and b-roll. Podcasts: These are all fantastic! Because they each have intro/outro music, make sure to credit that somewhere -- either in the podcast itself or in the Story Body field.
