

GET THE LOOK: CLASS & GLAMOUR WITH JENNIFER ANISTON!

No one does laidback Hollywood style like Jennifer Aniston. Ever since she lit up our screens with her portrayal of fashion addict Rachel in Friends, the television (and now film) actress channels an easygoing style that we're in love with. Rhea Dhanbhora shows you how to ape a few of her looks

Her style may be predictable, but it's far from boring. Think little black dresses, the occasional red-carpet worthy pair of shorts and a lot of leather. She's been experimenting with colour a little more than usual — and we're definitely on board! Take a look at how to perfect some of Jennifer Aniston's signature styles and then skip over to our box in order to style your hair as perfectly as she's known for doing.

#2: COOL & CASUAL

Not one to rock too elaborate a casual look, we love the laidback vibe of this outfit, which she wore at a film screening. It manages to combine a casual look with a formal enough vibe to attend an event in.

>> Pick a beige clutch to keep your look formal. A style like this one (₹1,299) from Add Ons is a good option.

>> Accessorise with one (or several!) of the toned gold bracelets (₹499 each) from Add Ons.

#1: FLORAL FANTASY

Jennifer is not often seen in bright, colourful prints, but when she is, she makes sure to keep them feminine. From her midi dress at her Hollywood Walk of Fame event to this gorgeous floral dress at the Meet the Millers premiere, she knows how to rock the pretty style.

>> We know that you can't replicate that engagement ring, but we love how she has let her ring be the centre of attention in this look. Pick up this 1.8kt white gold cocktail ring from Manubhai Jewellers (price on request) as your bling ring.

>> While we love how she's kept her shoes simple, adding a little colour won't hurt. Finish off your look with this gorgeous pair from Aldo (₹8,999)

>> We couldn't find the exact shade, but this pretty blue dress from UCB (₹2,999) will let you channel her flared skirt style. If you're looking for a lighter option, there's one available in cream as well.

#3: SILVER SIREN

While Jennifer is usually in her favourite LBD, there are times when she goes all-out — and how! She's the ultimate screen goddess in this pretty silver dress at the Women in Film Crystal Lucy Awards.

>> If you want to keep your look a little more subtle than hers is, a touch of gold and a hint of sleeve will help! Pick up this silver and gold sequined dress from Limeroad.com (₹2,600) for a party-ready option.

>> If you're looking to go all out with a strapless little number, this silver dress from Koovs.com (₹4,500) is the perfect option.

>> Tuck this in, but keep it messy to match her look. We love the high-low box pleat top (₹1,750) from Saiesta.com. The style and colour fit her look perfectly.

>> Whatever dress you pick, these slinky heels from Aldo (₹8,999) will do the trick.

#4: BEACH BABE

And, it's not even when she's at the beach! No one knows how to rock a pair of shorts like Jennifer does, and with her sun-kissed skin tone, she pulls off the style beautifully. She can even make it look glam, like she did at the Late Night Show with David Letterman.

>> If you're looking to channel her sexy formal look, pick up this knitted shirt (₹1,399) from USPA.

>> ELLE has a range of tops with sleeves that match those on the shirt that Jen is wearing. Pick this one up (₹2,699) for a more casual style.

>> You need a pair of shorts to get this look perfect. We suggest these black, straight fit ones (₹1,999) from ELLE.

>> Pick up shoes with a delicate heel and slinky straps. We love this Paprika pair (₹1,599) from Lifestyle.

#5: PAINT IT RED

One of our all-time favourite Jennifer Aniston looks recently shot on to the scene. Everyone's still talking about her bold, bright red Critics Choice Awards outfit, so it's time we stole her style. If anyone knows how to make a pant-suit look sexy, it's Jennifer!

>> Pick a different colour to channel this look if red is too much for you. If you do want to go all-out with her look though, pick up this red blazer (₹4,099) from Limeroad.com

>> Go matchy-matchy with this bright red pair of trousers (₹1,990) from Zara.

>> Since only the toe of your shoe will peek out in this look, make sure it's a stunning pair, like this one (₹8,999) from Aldo.

« THE HAIRSTYLES WE LOVE!

If there's one thing Jennifer Aniston is famous for, it's her perfect hair. Now that you've got her style in place, Nitin Manchanda, national technical head at Indola Professional, shows us how to get some of her red-carpet hairstyles

#1: This is a blend of different graduation techniques, topped with a few layers running over the top, creating a simple, sexy look. Add splashes of different shades of soft to light blondes on natural, medium blonde hair using (Nitin uses Indola professional's Permanent Caring Colors) hair colour.

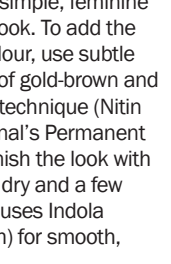

techniques with splashes of chocolate brown, honey blondes and light golden-blonde. Remember to add a few drops of serum before using a tong on your hair to get soft, yet defined, glossy curls.

#2: A kind of forward graduation technique is used to craft this simple, feminine look. To add the colour, use subtle tones of gold-brown and blonde in an aumbra technique (Nitin uses Indola professional's Permanent Caring Colors), and finish the look with a clean, straight blow dry and a few drops of serum (Nitin uses Indola Innova Smooth Serum) for smooth, shiny hair.

#4: This hairstyle can be designed using basic square layers with different shades of cool and warm blonde, using the dip die technique. Add soft curls towards the end with big tongs to perfect this style.

#3: Create this red carpet look (which is Nitin's personal favourite) with a blend of square layers and forward graduation

#5: A graduation of colours achieved by using marbling, you'll need tones of natural brown at your roots, which should blend into ash blonde towards mid length and natural blonde at the ends.

« CELEB HIT OR MISS: RHEA DHANBHOORA TAKES A LOOK AT WHAT OUR LEADING LADIES WORE THIS WEEK

« GAUHAR KHAN

Gauhar shows us how a dark gown should be worn on the red carpet. While the award show featured a slew of gowns in this shade, she's one of the few that managed a graceful, simple style that was still striking. Everything from the fit to the hint of embroidery and side-swept braid looks gorgeous, along with her fresh-faced makeup that perfectly complements but doesn't distract from the scarlet lip she's rocking.

« DEEPIKA PADUKONE

Deepika has been sporting a lot of red-carpet worthy styles off late, but we're not very sure about this one. The high-low, ruffled skirt and cascading style are definitely trendy, but the tight embroidered bodice of the dress ruins it a little. The pristine white would have fared better on a more elegant style, this looks more like a fluffy white cloud of whipped cream than a dress! Her shoes and pretty earrings get a thumbs up but that uber dark lipstick? That's a no-no Deepika!

« ILEANA D'CRUZ

We're almost in love with this one. We love pantsuits when they're done well (just refer to our article above to see how it's done!) and the daring plunge combined with the thick gold waistbelt, sultry bronzed makeup and lack of accessories makes this work. The side-swept ponytail adds to the oomph factor. But then, we see that black cape. It's completely unnecessary and just makes her look like she's attempting (and failing at) a Batman imitation.

« SONAM KAPOOR

Is it a top, is that a skirt or just a curtain wrapped around her waist? And, did she forget to take off her nightrobe? Sonam's quirky style may do it for some fashion freaks, but it's not working for us here. Her accessories are pretty, her hair is well done and even the makeup is on point. But the satin bedsheet-like vibe that her outfit is giving off doesn't do much style wise. It had a better chance without the cape/ rob, because the cream shade does suit her skin!

« URVASHI RAUTELA

This gown would not have stood out as such a Halloween themed look if not for that scary hairstyle and all that dark makeup. It almost succeeds at channelling a little vintage silver screen glamour, but actually ends up making her look somewhat like a character from a Tim Burton tale. The gown is well-fitting and she's got the perfect back to carry off the low, backless style — but it doesn't combine to work too well together with the entire look.
