Toronto Raptors Betting Odds

There are multiple betting markets, the same as the ones found in Vegas, available for wagering on the Toronto Raptors betting odds online.

Pre-match NBA betting odds on the Toronto Raptors include NBA moneylines, NBA point spreads, NBA game totals, plus a wide variety of player and team prop bets. These markets are available on every Toronto Raptors game – from the preseason until the NBA Finals.

Toronto Raptors futures are another popular betting options. Online sportsbooks offer NBA Finals odds on the Toronto Raptors throughout the year, adjusting the line to reflect the current state of the team and NBA.

If you don't know what these betting odds mean, let's discuss them one by one:

Moneylines

If you are a beginner player in basketball, Moneyline is for you. It is the simplest Raptors bet you can find on sportsbooks. This is where you simply bet on which team will win.

For example, let's say that the Raptors will play against Milwaukee. If you want to place a moneyline bet, you only need to choose the winner between the two teams.

Point Spreads

For points spread bet or bet against the spread, you must correctly pick which team will win or lose by specific points. Therefore, for your bet to win, your selected team must hit the point spread set by the oddsmakers in a particular game.

These bets come with a minus sign assigned to the favorite team and a negative one which shows the underdog. For example, oddsmakers can provide the following Raptors odds tonight:

Toronto Raptors (-3.5)

Milwaukee Bucks (-3.5)

The Raptors are the favored team here, while the Bucks are the underdog. If you bet on the Raptors, the team has to win with four points or more to get a prize. On the other hand, you will lose your bet if the Bucks win outright or lose by just one, two, or three points.

Totals

Totals bets or Over/ Under betting is based on points for both teams playing. You bet on whether the teams will score more or fewer points than the ones provided by the oddsmakers. Usually, the winner or the loser doesn't matter in this type of bet.

For example, if the total bet on the Raptors and the Bucks is 228 points, your over bet needs more than 228 points to cash out. On the other hand, your under bet would win if the teams scored less than 228 points.

Props

Prop bets are also common betting odds for the Raptors. This is where you bet on Raptors players instead of the whole team. For example, you can bet on whether a certain player will score certain points in a game or attain a certain amount of rebounds. Others are simple questions like, will the game go overtime?

Future

This type of bet focuses on the long term outcome for the Raptors. Therefore, you will bet on an event whose outcome will be settled in the future. For example, you can place a bet on the Raptors to win in the NBA finals. You will only need to find odds for the Raptors winning the championship in sportsbooks.

The best thing about future bets is that they pay better than others. This is because they are difficult to predict. Usually, these Raptors bets are placed at the beginning of the NBA season.

Toronto Raptors Win NBA Championship Odds

Toronto Raptors won its first NBA Championship in 2019. This is one of the greatest records the team has made. Since then, the expectations for the Raptors to remain on top have been high. However, will it win the NBA championship this year with Kyle Lowry gone?

Usually, during the offseason, oddsmakers provide opening odds for all 30 teams participating in the NBA finals. The sportsbooks keep adjusting these numbers as the regular NBA season begins depending on the opinion of bettors. During the regular season, injuries, trades, and suspensions are key factors when searching for Toronto Raptors odds tonight. As the matchup and the playoff seasons begin, the odds keep changing. After the playoff season is done and the two top teams are announced, oddsmakers turn their odds into American odds.

You can try your luck by finding Raptors betting odds for the NBA championship and placing your bet. It may be another season for the Raptors to shine in the finals.

You don't have to go searching for odds on multiple sites because below are the Raptors' odds to go back-to-back and win the 2020-21 NBA Championship. Check out our NBA Finals Odds feature for futures prices on all 30 NBA teams!
