

Maple Acres Community Residents Bring An Early Holiday To Children In Need

Moorestown, NJ – February 25, 2025 – Members of Maple Acres Community, an 83-acre senior living community in Moorestown, New Jersey, are working this month to create toys for children who have lost their possessions in the recent L.A. fires. The hope is to create a successful toy drive organized with the greater Moorestown community, and raise thousands for fire relief efforts.

The idea to create the toy drive was headed by longtime resident Anne Smith, who proposed the toy drive as a way to give back. Anne, known for her passion for service, recently celebrated her 85th birthday by donating some of her personal hand-knitted items to the children. “It just felt like the right thing to do... what else am I going to do here?” Anne Smith is quoted stating.

About Maple Acres Community

Residing in New Jersey, Maple Acres Community is a senior living institution dedicated to providing compassionate, innovative care.

To learn more, contact us williamsshaughn81@gmail.com, Shaughn Williams