

Hello CitizenCastPhilly,

My name is Shaughn Williams, a PR professional for an International Student Exchange program and I believe you should be made aware of the incoming wave of students in need of host families. With the spring semester nearing its halfway mark, many foreign exchange students are now looking for potential families to house them while they attend schools in the Philadelphia area. Research shows that communities which house exchange students receive a moderate annual income increase (about 5%-10%) along with monthly checks sent to an account of the homeowner's choosing. The houses would require a certain level of accommodations for the students, and the students will have mandatory check in's by our officials bi-monthly. We hope that we may have your podcast advertise our issue. Thank you!

Hello WIOQ,

My name is Shaughn Williams and I am a PR Professional for an International Student Exchange program that has a pressing matter here in Philly. We are in need of host families to house Exchange students in the Philadelphia area. These homes must meet certain requirements but homeowners will receive monthly payments from the government for participation. Research shows that the annual income of communities which home exchange students through our program raise by up to 10%! We believe this would be of interest to your listeners and hope to reserve a 15 second slot on air where we may advocate for our cause. Thank you!
