2023-2024 Opportunities

However, taking opportunities outside of your comfort zone can really pay off. Out of 127 internships this year, many generic roles were popular, such as:

- Researcher
- Marketing Intern
- Funding Bid Writer
- Project Manager
- Youth Worker

And many others....

"I was tasked with handling social media and some digital marketing aspects, but I was exposed to a lot of different aspects of the business – in sales, in services development of products, and looking at how their business operates."

Praise from my managers:

“Terrific work Atlas, thanks for being so great to work with and proactive. Both Karen & I really appreciate your input.”

“I just wanted to reiterate what Lee has said - all your work has been brilliant and it's been great for us to have someone so committed and professional working on these projects 😊”
