

KRISTIN HARBISON

Profile

I am 21 years old, and I am a senior at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, majoring in communications with a concentration in public relations and minoring in marketing. I love to learn new skills, and can adapt to any given environment. I started college as a junior in high school because I love pushing myself to the best of my ability, and because I wanted to get a jump start in my education. I plan on expanding my skills for a career that showcases my top skills and best qualities one day. I love to write and design, and my dream is to find a career that allows me to do both.
