

natural spectacle. If the lights don't appear, not to worry: you'll receive a complimentary six- or seven-day classic voyage in the next aurora season*.

As you glide between picture-perfect ports, it's easy to while away the hours simply soaking up the spectacular scenery. But if you prefer a little more engagement with your surroundings, your Coastal Experience Team is on hand to enrich your journey with insights into local history, culture, nature, photography and more. And with meals on board crafted from the finest, locally sourced, homegrown produce, you'll be tasting Norway's splendour, too.

COMMITTED TO THE COAST

The world's most beautiful voyages are also among the most sustainable available. Channelling the same pioneering spirit as its founder, Hurtigruten is currently undertaking its most ambitious sustainability initiative yet, developing zero-emission ships by 2030.

Book an unforgettable journey along Norway's coast today and immerse yourself in unfiltered, authentic exploration. It's the essence of a Hurtigruten cruise. ■

Live the legend of Norway

Discover the extraordinary beauty of the Norwegian coastline on a Hurtigruten cruise

In 1893, Captain Richard With established the 'hurtigruten' or 'fast route' – an express steamship service along the Norwegian coastline. A wonderland of snowcapped mountains and majestic fjords, it's a route lauded as the world's most beautiful voyage. 130 years later, With's company, now known as Hurtigruten, invites you to embark on this remarkable journey for yourself.

YEAR-ROUND MAGIC

Following Hurtigruten's signature route from Bergen to Kirkenes and back, the 'Classic Roundtrip Voyage' offers an authentic exploration of coastal Norway. In just a dozen days, you'll call at 34 communities peppering the shores, from quaint fishing villages and enchanting islands to bustling towns and cities. And with sailings year-round, you can pick from the unique delights of Norway's diverse yet equally captivating seasons. Another round trip from Bergen, the 'Svalbard Express', sets sail during the summer, when days never quite fully surrender to darkness and remain tinged with the golden glow of the midnight sun. This 16-day cruise ventures even deeper into the Arctic to Svalbard, an archipelago of rugged beauty where polar bears prowl and glaciers majestically calve into glistening waters.

As the year advances and the nights shrug on their inky cloak, the aurora borealis comes out to dance. Throughout winter, the 'North Cape Express' spends a fortnight sailing between Norway's southern and northernmost reaches. Far from the light pollution on land, your ship doubles as a floating observatory, offering a fantastic chance to catch this
