We know what resonates with retail investors, and we believe educated investors make better decisions.

Investors who access premium company and financial information on our app stay logged in twice as long. And that's not all: Those who turn on notifications for news and events/earnings are 3 times more likely to log in to the app, stay logged in 8 times longer, and are almost 2 times more likely to do something (e.g., read an article, perform a search, etc.) while logged in.

If you're a #fintech, #neobank, or #broker, consider partnering with the only investment intelligence provider that has a deep understanding of investor behavior. Feedback from our app users drives us to develop the most user-friendly APIs, SDKs, and embedded UIs in the industry.
