What is Next Up Anytime? How is it different from AT&T Next Up?

Next Up Anytime gives you the flexibility to upgrade your phone anytime for $10/month. Turn in your current phone and you won't have to worry about the remaining installment balance. You can upgrade up to three times in a 12-month period.

Plus, after 12 monthly installment payments—or once one-third of your device cost is paid off—you can access our smartphone deals.

Just note: the $10/month Next Up Anytime charge does not go toward your device installment balance.

AT&T Next Up is a legacy feature that some existing customers may still have, but it is no longer available for new enrollment. Learn more about Next Up

Req's purchase of eligible smartphone on AT&T Installment Plan with extra $10/mo. Next Up Anytime feature, qual. credit and elig. svc. Upgrade elig. with qual. turn in. Max 3 upgrades in a 12-month period. Limits & restr's apply.

Can I add Next Up Anytime after I've already bought my phone?

It's easiest to add Next Up Anytime when you buy a new phone on an installment plan, but you can do it within 14 days by visiting or calling an AT&T store. Business customers have 30 days.

Do I have to turn in my old phone when I upgrade?

With Next Up Anytime, you do need to turn in your old phone in good physical and working condition.

If you have an AT&T Installment Plan without Next Up or Next Up Anytime, you can upgrade after all 36 monthly payments—and your old device is yours to keep.

When can I upgrade my phone?

With Next Up Anytime, you can upgrade after making your first device installment payment and your first Next Up Anytime payment.

If you'd like to take advantage of eligible AT&T smartphone deals, you'll need to pay off at least one-third of your device before upgrading.

Can I make a payment early to be eligible for deals?

Yes—the easiest way is to access your AT&T account and start the upgrade process. If you haven't paid off one-third of your device yet, the amount you owe will be calculated and added to your cart. You'll see the latest deals while you shop for a new phone.
