

PROMOTIONAL VIDEO SCRIPT FOR PRIESST

Opening Scene: [Vibrant shots of Lagos, Nigeria - bustling markets, colorful street art, and lively music filling the air. The sounds of Afrobeat rhythms blend seamlessly with the visuals.]

Narrator: "In the heart of Lagos, where every corner pulses with energy and life, a new sensation is about to emerge."

[Cut to footage of Priesst performing in unconventional locations - a rooftop overlooking the city, the trenches, performing in the church, at the bus stop - drawing curious onlookers who stop to listen.]

Narrator: "Meet Priesst, a boundary-pushing talent whose music knows no limits."

[The music intensifies as the video showcases clips of the artist engaging with people in unexpected ways - impromptu jam sessions in parks where Priesst is on his headset in the trenches walking and being stopped by some area boys to drop a quick jam for them and the area boys being very visually impressed and calling him the next big thing as they start placing their bets on it, interactive street performances, and surprise pop-up concerts.]

Narrator: "With a magnetic presence and an infectious energy, Priesst is more than just a musician - He is melody himself."

[Cut to snippets of interviews with fans, who share their experiences encountering Priesst and the impact their music has had on them.]

Fan 1: "I saw him grow up, performing in the church, getting into it more and more, I've been his number one fan ever since. Their music just speaks to me."

Fan 2: "It's not just about the music with Priesst, it's about the experience - the spontaneity, the sense of community they create wherever they go."

Fan 3: "I dey always see am for area, he dey always perform for us, (turns to his friend) I don win the bet, shey I tell you say he's the next big thing."

[The music builds to a crescendo as the video showcases Priesst's upcoming projects and collaborations, leaving viewers intrigued and eager to learn more.]

Narrator: "Prepare to be swept away by the force that is Priesst. Join the conversation and be part of something extraordinary."

[The video ends with the artist's logo and a call to action prompting viewers to share their own experiences and engage with Priesst on social media.]

Narrator: "The world is talking about Priesst, are you?"