About Us

SmartScapes Landscaping has been serving the Athens area since 2017 when founder Mark Smart had a truck, a trailer, and a vision. A 2012 graduate of The University of Georgia's Landscape Architecture program, Mark put his vision to action. Since then, SmartScapes has grown from a one-man show to a team of thirteen, all committed to providing the kind of service that exceeds expectations. Our goal is simple: to do great work and treat people right.

At SmartScapes Landscaping, we help homeowners transform their outdoor spaces into something remarkable. Whether your style leans fancy garden party or more kid-friendly, we're dedicated to making sure your space is an extension of your home. We also support local businesses to ensure exteriors look professional and welcoming for clients and guests.

From custom landscaping and drainage solutions to seasonal cleanups and patio installations, our team offers practical, high-quality services designed to fit your yard and your budget. Need an outdoor sitting area for those warm summer nights? We do that, too. We also love working with native plants and building pollinator-friendly spaces. No residential job is too big or too small. And, we offer regular maintenance services to keep your landscaping looking good year-round.

What really sets us apart at SmartScapes are our ties to the community. We're from here, too, and we take great pride in keeping Athens beautiful. We hire locally, and chances are, if we don't know you personally yet, we know someone who knows you. That's why we're committed to making sure every job is done right. We answer the phone when you call, and we show up when we say we will. Our prices are fair, and we stand by our work. We're here for the long haul, and that means doing business the right way.

We're proud to serve the Athens area, one yard at a time. Whether you need a full redesign or just someone to get your yard tidy before game day, you can count on SmartScapes. We look forward to working with you. Go Dawgs!
