

WOMEN PRODUCE 70% OF AFRICA'S FOOD

BUT OWN LESS THAN 15% OF
THE LAND

HOW DOES THIS HAPPEN?

There are multiple barriers women face when it comes to land ownership and farming in Africa.

These include:

- Gender inequality among households.
- Lack of legal and cultural rights to land.
- Limited access to credit and financial institutions.
- Reduced access to farming tools like training, equipment, and seeds.
- Impacts of climate change.

WHAT CAN I DO?

A gift today can:

- Provide vital agricultural supports like farm equipment, training, and drought-resistant seeds.
- Facilitate gender equality training for households.
- Supply farm animals like goats and chickens to breed and sell.
- Provide credit to women farmers.

INVEST IN FEMALE FARMERS

When women thrive,
communities flourish.

Donate today to support women farmers as they grow brighter futures for their children, families,
and communities.

Give now: farm.ca/gift

