

Wilma Sierra Blanca: Making Your Modern Paradise a Reality

Impeccable, sleek, and modern designs surrounded by gorgeous mountaintop views of the Mediterranean Sea accompanied by a peaceful stillness found only in nature- this piece of heaven can be found in the sunny city of Marbella on the Costa del Sol in Andalusia. Thanks to Wilma Sierra Blanca, we have the opportunity to live out this dream in one of their boutique developments named The View.

Not only is this boutique development made with avant-garde architecture and design, but it has also been made to be long-lasting and eco-friendly. At this point, this all seems to be too good to be true, but it is true, and here is why:

Power Houses

Wilma Sierra Blanca is a joint venture between two internationally renowned development companies, meaning these two great powers combined create something even greater. Wilma Developments Spain (a holding representation of Wilma Immobilien) has been a powerhouse since its beginning in 1939 in Germany having built for over 2 billions worth of residential real estate development, even ranking 2nd in the German Project Developer Ranking List of Bulwiengesa 2015.

The other half of the joint venture is the company Sierra Blanca Global. Having 20 years of experience in high-profile real estate projects, they too have proven themselves to be a key player in real estate development with their impressive portfolio. In the joint venture, Sierra Blanca Global provides expertise in project management and construction processes within Spain. In relation to this, the interest for Sismo Building Technology originated and Pedro A. Rodriguez acquired the rights for this innovative construction technique in Spain. This company designs and constructs with innovative and advanced technology, making them an important part of the development project, The View.

Interior view from development project, The View.

Visionary Leaders

Regardless of what level of expertise a company may have from a technical standpoint, a company won't succeed without its visionary leaders. One of these visionary leaders is Pedro A. Rodriguez, a Partner and Managing Director of Wilma Sierra Blanca. He has 15 years of experience in the real estate industry including real estate development, construction, real estate brokerage, and building. With his extensive industry knowledge and expertise, Pedro helps form impossible dreams into reality.

Another important leader on the team is Kasper Borregaard-Otzen, the Sales and Marketing Manager of Wilma Sierra Blanca. Kasper is a go-getter, who draws from his years of experience in sales and marketing- many of which were in the real estate industry, in order to help clients understand the true experience of such a remarkable project like The View. Wilma Sierra Blanca is well-equipped with the right combination of dedicated and talented members so that our dreams of a luxurious escape come to fruition.

The Vision

What holds the company and its team together is its vision. Wilma Sierra Blanca strives to become an industry leader for luxury developers in the Costa del Sol region through their reliability and commitment to exceed the expectations of their buyers and partners. This is why their new boutique development, The View, seems too good to be true even though everything about it is completely true.

The boutique development project, The View

From its state-of-the-art designs, its responsible and sustainable construction, its breath-taking views and location to its relaxing ambiance, The View was made to exceed all of your expectations when you need it the most. It can be your peaceful getaway, your international adventure, or even a just beautiful place to enjoy your friends and family. Wilma Sierra Blanca has done everything to make sure that your luxurious dreams come to fruition.

Learn more about how you can make your luxurious getaway a reality at <https://www.wilmasb.com/>.