

This is for the girls whose favorite color is glitter,
Who look at a wall and see a blank canvas,
And turn every carpet into a stage.

This is for the girls whose masterpieces come with messes.
Who turns homework assignments into unicorns,
And always seem to find the spotlight,
Even if they have to make one themselves.

Under the sequins, and clay, and paint on her face
Is an artist,
A creator,
An innovator.

This is for the girls who will make the world a better place
Because they'll make it more beautiful,
More friendly,
More inclusive.

And because these are the girls who will change the way you see everything.
