

one last thing

KIM KARDASHIAN

Is this picking favourites? Kim Kardashian, 43, posed wearing an "I Love You Chicago" T-shirt – which just so happens to be the name of her youngest daughter, six.

THE LOOSE WOMEN LADIES

Choosing to do it loudly and proudly, Ruth Langford, 64, Linda Robson, 66, Denise Welch, 66, and Kaye Adams, 61, wore their ages emblazoned across their chest on the show last year.

DUA LIPA

Giving fans a glimpse of her killer abs with her choice, the "Physical" singer, 28, looked a vision in her pink Tee, reading "Fitness Instructor."

SLOGANS GALORE

These celebs didn't just say it, they wore it too!

FEARNE COTTON

As founder of podcast Happy Place, it's probably no surprise Fearne Cotton, 42, has such a positive slogan on her jumper. It seems like she always gets out of the right side of the bed!

CHER

Proving she's earned her icon status, pop star Cher, 78, wore her own 'Chersace' T-shirt during a Pride Month collab with designers Versace. The rainbows and rhinestones won't come cheap, with one shirt retailing for £2,591.

JUDI LOVE

Forget Frankie, Judi says relax! Loose Women presenter Judi Love, 44, gave a lesson in self-care with her slogan T-shirt, telling viewers to sit back and put their feet up.

MEL B

Harking back to her girlband days, Scary Spice, 49, looked a dream as she mixed her signature leopard print with a Spice Girls jumper.
