

CHLOE:

TOWIE EXCLUSIVE

'I think egos got involved'

With series two of House Of Sims back on our screens, star Chloe talks sibling rivalry and LA dating

After swapping Essex for LA, Chloe Sims is finally making her US dreams come true as she rubs shoulders with Hollywood's rich and famous.

And we get to have a front row seat to her new life once again with the return of her reality show, House Of Sims.

Chloe, 42, is back with her brother Charlie, 32, and sisters Frankie and Demi. But it's not all happy families. In fact, it's the exact opposite! The siblings are at war. In an explosive clip aired recently, Chloe is branded a "compulsive liar" by her younger sister Frankie, 29, while Demi, 27, reaches out to throw a drink at Chloe, descending into a physical fight. Frankie and Demi have now returned home with their LA dream destroyed.

Chloe, who found fame on TOWIE, sat down with Closer to explain just what happened. "Moving across the world with five strong personalities in one house would be tricky for any family. I hate to say it, but I think egos got involved. Personally, I wish it didn't happen. I did not see it coming," she reveals.

"I've tried to keep Madison as neutral as possible," she adds on her daughter Maddie, 19. "It's very difficult now the show's out, but she's fine. I would never involve Maddie."

STATESIDE

Single mum Chloe is just happy she still gets to see her little girl, who currently splits her time between the UK and LA. It's something Chloe hopes she'll be able to do one day, too.

She says, "LA is my home at the moment, but that's not to say I wouldn't return to the UK. I don't know about Essex, but I've got a love affair with London. The dream for me is to have a home there, and a home here in LA."

Since jetting off to start her new life Stateside in 2023, Chloe has been rubbing shoulders with plenty of Hollywood stars – recently attending the same event as fellow Brit and Selling Sunset star Chelsea Lazkani, 30.

The star is also getting to see some familiar faces gracing the streets of LA too – including her former TOWIE co-stars Vas Morgan, 35, Liam Gatsby, 35, and Joey Essex, 33.

Chloe reveals, "Vas is my best friend, and Joey is obviously my cousin – he recently stayed with me for about six weeks.

I got really teary when he left, he's like my best mate.

"Having Joey here, I also saw Diags a lot on FaceTime! I miss him so much. Me and Diags were extremely close my whole time on TOWIE, so we'll catch up next time I'm in the UK. I'm still friends with Pete Wicks too. We're in touch and will meet up when I come back."

NATURAL

Once known for being one of TOWIE's most glammed-up stars, Chloe – who's admitted to two boob jobs, a nose job, veneers and filler – now says she's embracing a more natural look.

"We've got a lot of glam in the UK," she explains. "At home, I'd panic about being underdressed – but here, I'm worried about being overdressed! LA is very casual, natural hair, no extensions, natural make-up.

The sisters in happier times

CHARLIE:

'I had to tear my sisters apart!'

The Sims sibling opens up about the crazy drama he's had to deal with at home

Being one boy in a family of sisters is not easy, as Charlie Sims knows only too well. Sitting down with us just before the new series of their reality show airs, he tells us he's witnessed everything from name calling to backstabbing. But this was the first time it turned violent. "That was the first time I'd ever broken up a physical fight," he says about the first episode of the new series. "We've had arguments, but I've never seen anyone in the family lunge at each other. We're always such a tight unit, it didn't feel real."

And the fight has had some serious consequences for Essex-born Charlie, who's currently planning his wedding to his fiancée Georgia Shults, 31.

He says, "[Me and Georgia] do go looking for venues this series, but it's tricky because of the fallout. A wedding is such a big family event, and I don't want people to not be there." But thankfully, at least some of his old TOWIE co-stars are on hand to help out. "There's a lot of TOWIE people in LA right now, and we've been filming with some of them," explains

Family rows

Soon-to-be weds

Charlie with Ferne McCann on TOWIE

Charlie, who famously dated Ferne McCann. "Liam Gatsby recently moved here, and Vas Morgan has been a good friend to Chloe for a long time. We've been rubbing shoulders with him at his parties."

Chloe and daughter Madison

With Selling Sunset's Chelsea Lazkani

She's been linked to Miles Richie